Two Rinks Pitted In Carspiel

D'Amour, Johnson Now Curling Finals In Big Prize Event

Two rinks have reached the final in the Edmonton ACT car bonspiel. They are Frenchy D'Amour of Trail, B.C., and Leo Johnson of Winnipeg.

Edmonton's last rink to hold a chance of getting to the two-out-of-three final series went down to defeat this morning.

In that game, L. E. Hodgins suffered a 15-8 drubbing at the hands of Frenchy D'Amour.

TWO-OUT-OF-THREE

D'Amour will meet Leo Johnson of Winnipeg today in the two-out-of-three playoff for the autos.

The Hodgins-D'Amour game today was a sudden death playoff for the right to meet Johnson after yesterday's round robin.

D'Amour took an early lead in the event but a five-end for Hodgins in the sixth tied the game up.

The Trail team fought back with some superb curling, regained their lead and were never again threatened throughout the game.

Hodgins conceded after the 11th end.

GAME TIMES

The Johnson-D'Amour playoff games will be played at 1 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. today.

If a third game is needed to decide winners of the ACT automobiles, it will be played immediately after the 6:30 game.

Gas Find In Peace River Said From A New Source

Husband Held In Wife's Death

WINNIPEG, Nov. 5—(BUP)—William Murzak, 62, will be charged with murder in connection with the death of his wife, Chief Constable Charles MacIver said yesterday.

Murzak's wife died in hospital, Thursday night, after suffering severe head injuries Wednesday night in her home.

Dutch Army Leaves Cities Of Indonesia

BATAVIA, Java, Nov. 5.—(AP)—The Netherlands army has started withdrawing from Soerakarta and Madioen, last big cities held in Indonesian republican territory in central Java.

Complete evacuation of the entire occupation force is expected by Nov. 12.

New gas producing formation has been discovered in the Peace River district.

The new formation was found by Pacific Petroleums Ltd. in their Peace River Natural Gas Test No. 6 being drilled halfway between Fort St. John and Dawson Creek at Mile 25 on the Alaska Highway.

Geologically, the formation is of 'Triassic' age and underlies the Lower Cretaceous from which it is separated by the Jurassic. The Devonian formations which produce oil in Redwater and Leduc are found below the Triassic. The Cretaceous has also produced gas and oil.

The formation was encountered at 4,843 feet and was penetrated to a depth of six feet.

Lower half of the six feet was highly porous and a test of the bottom fourteen feet of the hole gave a gas blow at the rate of 416,000 cubic feet daily, according to reports received by the Edmonton office of the Company.

Bottomhole pressure at the well is reported to be very good and if the porosity continues a highly successful gas well is expected.

Coring and testing is being continued to determine the thickness of the gas cap and also the possibility of oil under the gas.

BELIEVED FIRST

The Pacific find is believed to be the first in the Triassic in the Dominion. It has proved oil producing in the Rocky Mountain states of the United States.

Company officials in Edmonton stated it was the most important find yet made in British Columbia. Located on lsd. 13-11-81-17W6, the well is 25 miles west of the Alberta-B.C. boundary.

Triassic formation is not present in Alberta, except for the Peace River area where it will add another potential producing zone to those already known.

Development of the find as a substantial gas producing field would prove of considerable value to Pacific Petroleums which, through a subsidiary company, Westcoast Transmission Co., is contemplating construction of a pipeline to Vancouver and Seattle areas to supply natural gas.

Vic Mature Plays Handball While Wife Burns, Quits

By VIRGINIA MACPHERSON
BUP Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 5.—Vic. Mature, the "beautiful hunk o' man" who lost three wives via divorces and two fiancees via lovers' quarrels, took his latest romantic bust-up today with bewildered surprise.

He didn't know anything about it, he said, until a friend told him Mrs. Dorothy Jane Berry Mature, wife No. 3, had filed for divorce and demanded $1,000 monthly alimony.

"I was playing handball yesterday at the Beverly Hills Club," Mature said. "A pal called up with the news.

CLAIMS SURPRISED

"I was sure surprised. We had a fight Monday, and I've been in the doghouse all week. But that's par for us, you know.

"She was home with me last night. I didn't dream THIS was going to happen."

Mature was the only one who didn't. The couple's friends said it was just a matter of time before the pretty Pasadena, Calif., socialite ended their battling marriage with a legal heave-ho.

"He's the kind of a guy who can't be tied down," they said. "He can't submit to any regimentation, and that includes marriage. But she's a gal who likes to have her husband around once in a while, especially at dinner time.

VICTOR MATURE
. . . Wife walks out.

"He made heroic efforts to be home when company was there. But once in a while he'd miss . . . and she'd give him hell.

"She had a temper herself, and she was always the offended party in their quarrels."

The brawny movie hero and the trail blonde eloped to Yuma, Ariz., Feb. 28, 1948. It was Mrs. Mature's second try at marriage and the third for her bridegroom. His ex-wives were Frances Charles and Martha Kemp, who told a judge he was a "total flop as a husband."

Twice Mature almost got to the altar again. His engagement to Rita Hayworth was broken suddenly when she jilted him for Orson Welles, who sawed her in half nightly in a magic show.

He consoled himself in the company of another movie redhead, blue-eyed Anne Shirley, and lost her by a lovers' quarrel.

Things began to get hectic around the Mature love nest about a year ago. Last month they had a spat in a night spot and she moved out for a few days.

"I finally got her back," Mature cracked at the time, "but it was an armed truce. A fellow has to take his lumps. Before the ceremony guys are always gazing into a dame's eyes. Take it from me, they oughta look at their jaws.

"It was quite a long time after we were married before I noticed that—in a certain light—Dottie has a jaw like a first sergeant."

Youths Get Five-Year Jail Terms

Court Finds Trio Guilty of Offence Against Girl, 16

Open war against sex criminals was declared in Supreme Court yesterday when Mr. Justice S. J. Shepherd sentenced three youths to terms of five years with lashes when they were found guilty of raping a 16-year-old girl.

Convicted are Ross and Morley Hinchberger, aged 20 and 19, and Harry Collins, 19.

RCMP refused to disclose the boys' addresses.

They were found guilty of raping a 16-year-old girl in a ditch in a lonely road near the eastern city limits on the night of May 20.

"HORRIBLE OFFENCE"

"You have been found guilty of a horrible offence, and rightly so in my humble opinion," his Lordship told the three boys.

"As I mentioned in another case recently, this sort of thing is happening altogether too often.

"I am going to exercise the best judgment I have to see if I can stamp it out. If women can not walk in dark streets in safety, I would like to know why."

He pointed out to the trio they could be hung for their crime.

After passing the five year sentence, His Lordship added:

"And in addition to that you each

New Rent February 1

OTTAWA, Nov. 5.—(CP)—New rent ceilings became authorized for many Canadians Dec. 15, but it won't mean an immediate increase for most of them.

The "vast majority of tenants won't start paying higher rents until around Feb. 1," officials said today.

Rent regulations provide that tenants renting by the month must be given one month's notice—that is one month from the day the next rent payment comes due—of any change in rents.

Officials said most Canadians pay their rent on the first of the month. In such cases, the landlord can't give notice in time for a higher rent in January and the new rents can't be collected before February.

Wedding Tiff Brings Death

KENORA, Ont., Nov. 5.—(CP)—John Sherman, 39, was fatally injured in a fight at his home during which he was knifed, following a wedding reception Thursday.

Leslie Creed, 20, of Kenora, is being held in connection with the slaying.

Police said the reception was held at the Creed home to celebrate the marriage of Creed's brother, Frank.

Sherman and Leslie Creed got into an argument and blows were exchanged. They were separated and Sherman and his wife returned to their home.

It is alleged Creed visited the Sherman home later and the fight was resumed. It was then that Sherman was fatally knifed.

Union, GMC Officials Talk

OSHAWA, Ont., Nov. 5.—(CP)—Company and union officials met today to discuss the General Motors strike.

It marks the first time since the strike began Oct. 26 over production speedup charges that company officials and the United Automobile Workers (CIO) have entered negotiations.

Approximately 5,000 workers are affected by the strike.

They adjourned at noon and said they planned a further meeting this afternoon.

Observers speculated that the decision to continue the discussions might indicate some progress was being made toward settlement of the dispute.

Local 524, to which many employes of the Canadian General Electric plant here belong, split last night over which union the Peterborough workers will support. Both sides have started to sign up members.

Hit-Run Driver Named By Jury

Coroner's Inquest Rules Indian Was Killed By Truck

A coroner's jury in city court late yesterday named a Woodbend, Alta., man as driver of truck which killed an Indian near Stony Plain Sept. 18.

He is John McIlvean, named by the jury as having failed to remain at the accident scene.

No charges have yet been laid against the driver.

Evidence presented to the jury by four witnesses was that the truck which McIlveen was driving Sept. 17, was the one which struck the Indian, Adam Thomas, 57. The truck is owned by Norman McNeilly of Winterburn, the jury was told.

Accident took place three miles west of city limits in the municipality of Stony Plain.

WALKING ON WEST

The deceased had been walking along the west-cross walk and was struck by a truck going east, a witness said.

Exhaustive checking and tracing by RCMP was credited for identification of the death-truck.

Jury's verdict read: "We the jury find that Adam Thomas died of multiple injuries including fracture of the skull and abrasion of the brain.

"It is our sincere belief that driver of the truck, in evidence presented, was John McIlveen of Woodbend."

"The force deserves a great amount of credit for finding the driver and building such a conclusive case with what they had to work with," said Dr. M. M. Cantor, provincial corner, who conducted the inquest.

"We agree," continued the jury, "that death was due to the Indian being struck by the truck which was travelling at an excessive rate of speed. It is also our belief the driver was under the influence of liquor."

Rent Seen Pressing Wage Rise

From CP and BUP Despatches

Some newspapers joined with organized labor and veterans' organizations today in criticizing the federally-sponsored rent increases of 20 to 25 per cent.

The Conservative Montreal Gazette editorially said: "Such a hefty addition to living costs will undoubtedly revive pressure for jacking up wage and salary levels to new heights, thus stimulating a new inflationary spiral."

The Winnipeg Tribune described the announcement as "bad timing and high-handed action."

Finance Minister Abbott, in Montreal for the week-end, defended the increases as "justifiable" and said not all landlords would take advantage of them. Landlords may take part, all or none of the permitted increase.

PROVINCES CAN ACT

The increases can be blocked in any province that replaces federal rental ceilings of its own, a federal government spokesman said. The provincial ceilings could be higher or lower than the federal ones. So

Hospitals to Help Prepare New Act

Committees Suggested To Assist Draft Regulations For Cross Plan

CALGARY, Nov. 5.—(CP)—Associated Hospitals of Alberta decided in convention yesterday to set up a committee to discuss the proposed $1-a-day Alberta hospitalization plan with the provincial government.

The plan would begin next April 1, provided it was sanctioned by the Alberta people and passed the legislature, Dr. W. W. Cross, Alberta minister of health and public welfare, told convention delegates earlier.

Other resolutions approved asked that Indians pay public ward rates at the present scale of fees; power rates to hospitals be cut to conform with rates paid by neighboring consumers whose load is similar; a pension plan be incorporated in the Municipal Hospitals Act; and that nurses' aids be given credit for their course towards a nursing degreen.

COMMITTEES SUGGESTED

The resolution on the hosptial plan recommended that a committee co-operate with the health department in drafting regulations under the proposed legislation. The committee would have four members, representing municipal, church, city and all other hospitals.

The convention urged that the government give consideration to the appointment of a member to the committee from both urban and municipal district hospital associations.

A recommendation was passed that the Canadian Hospital Council assist the AHA Economics committee in having Indians pay the going rate for public ward accommodation, plus extra services at their rate of fees.

The convention asked that the Dominion government pay this rate for the Indians and the provincial government pay the 70 cents per diem grant as they do for other residents of the province.

The Dominion government was urged to extend hospital grants to all phases of hospital work. The association requested that grants for nurses' homes be taken into consideration.

Rent Seen Aiding Wage Rise Demand

far, however, no province has offered to enter the rent-control field.

Two provincial premiers indicated their governments have no intention of taking Mr. Abbott up on his offer to turn rent controls over to the provincial governments.

MANNING TO STAY OUT

Premier Manning of Alberta said rent controls were a federal responsibility and added, "there is no justification for continuance of these controls under normal peace-time conditions."

Premier Campbell of Manitoba said he believed the federal government "should continue in the rental field if possible."

But welfare minister Sturdy of Saskatchewan said the province's CCF government will move into the field if the federal government moves out. As acting premier, he said that Saskatchewan condemned the rental increases "in strongest possible terms."

STRIKE IS SUGGESTED

In Ottawa, A. R. Mosher, president of the Canadian Congress of Labor, said the increase would mean "a further boost in the cost of living and a good many people are already paying rents above what they can afford."

Mr. Mosher branded as "utter nonsense" the suggestion by Montreal Boot and Shoe Workers' Union (CIO), that the CCL call a one-day protest strike across Canada.

For the Trades and Labor Congress, President Percy Bengough said: "This just means another increase in the cost of living. A lot of people with limited incomes are having enough trouble meeting the landlord and the grocer now."

LEGION TO PROTEST

M. J. Coldwell, national leader of the CCF said the government's move "shows an entire disregard for the interest and the welfare of the great mass of the Canadian people."

A formal protest is expected to be laid before the cabinet by the national executive of the Canadian Legion when it meets in Ottawa next week.

George Harris, secretary United Electrical Workers Union said in Toronto the lifting of rent controls was equal to a 10 per cent wage cut for half the families living in cities and towns.

The government's action was described as "terrific and terrible" by Hugh Sedgwick, secretary of the Hamilton district trades and labor council.

A few spokesmen for property-owners organizations countered that landlords have had the increases coming to them for a long time.

6-Week Baby Kidnapped

UTICA, N.Y., Nov. 5 — (UP) — Authorities sent out a general alarm today for a tall kidnapper who snatched a six-weeks-old baby from his bassinet, then fled while the child's 27-year-old mother screamed for help.

Mrs. Stella Komerek, of nearby Clayville, told state police the kidnapper entered an unlocked kitchen door, grabbed her only child, Stephen, and scrambled up a steep embankment to a dark 1937 or 1939 sedan.

The mother retrieved a blue receiving blanket the kidnapper dropped as he fled.

Newspaper Strike Ends

VANCOUVER, Nov. 5.—(CP)—Settlement of a 41-month strike against the Southam-owned Vancouver Daily Province was announced today by publisher P. C. Galbraith and Vancouver presidents of the three allied printing trade unions involved.

A. Bevis, president of Local 226 of the International Typographical Union (AFL), said in a statement that the agreement provides for "full recognition and acceptance of ITU laws" and re-establishes the Vancouver local as "having complete jurisdiction in the composing room."

His statement was released coincidently with Mr. Galbraith's.

Negotiations began two weeks ago and ended Friday. Local 226 of the ITU, Local 88 of the International Stereotyper's Union (AFL) and Local 70 of the ITU-Affiliated Mailers participated.

Members of the union return Monday to the posts they left June 6, 1946. Picketing ended Friday night.

There has been no resumption of contract with the ITU by the Hamilton Spectator, the Ottawa Citizen, the Winnipeg Tribune or the Edmonton Journal, the other Southam newspapers concerned.

shall be whipped to the extent of 10 lashes."

As they heard the word "lashes" the heads of all three youths dropped to their chests.

Seconds later, Morley Hinchberger broke down in the stand and wept openly, wiping away the freely-falling tears with a large handkerchief.

Young Collins also held a handkerchief in his hands.

The three had stood defiantly erect until the sentence was passed. When his brother broke down, Ross Hinchberger glared at him.

PLEA REFUSED

A plea by defence counsel Neil D. Maclean to date the imprisonment from the date of arrest was refused by His Lordship.

"They're lucky they didn't get 10 years," he commented.

The three boys, all residents of the area just outside the city limits near 82 avenue, were found guilty of a brutal assault on a girl of the district, who was walking home from a dance.

After the attack the girl was left unconscious in the ditch.

COMPANION TESTIFIED

Key witness in the trial was a companion of the trio, William Dean, 18, who had previously been charged with the same crime and was acquitted for lack of evidence.

When acquitted, Dean was bound over to give evidence at the trial of his three companions.

He, in his evidence, openly admitted having raped the girl. No charges can be laid against him because of his previous acquittal.

"He was acquitted through the grace of God . . . not through any grace of the prosecution," stated crown prosecutor W. J. Shortreed in his address to the jury.

He continued, "My only regret is that Dean does not sit in the prisoner's box today."

ENMITY CLAIMED

Defence counsel Maclean argued that Dean had only implicated the other three because of family enmity and in an attempt to protect the girl's reputation.

The defence suggested the girl had fabricated the story of the attack when her mother found blood on her clothing the next morning.

On the stand, the Hinchberger brothers flatly denied the charges, stating they had driven home from the dance in the East Edmonton Community Hall after driving around the city for a time.

They explained they had taken the drive to sober up Dean. Mr. Maclean pleaded that a conviction would send the youths to prison where they would associate with the "scum of Canada."

SUPPORTED DEAN

The crown prosecutor pointed out that he had nothing to gain by testifying after his own acquittal. He also stated that Dean had been "a most unwilling witness."

A total of seven young men have been charged with rape in the current sitting of the supreme court. Of the other four, one was sentenced to three years with lashes, one to two years, one received a suspended sentence and one was acquitted.

Home Owners Reject Plea For Rent Control

Despite the continuing serious shortage of housing, Edmonton is among the foremost cities in dwelling construction.

This is what members of the Edmonton Property Owners' Association were told in an address yesterday by City Commissioner John Hodgson.

Chairman of the well-attended meeting held in the Public Library was George W. Hazlett.

Mr. Hodgson referred to Edmonton's growth over the past 20 years.

He said more houses and other types of residences were constructed in the Jan. 5 to July 15 period in 1949 than in the entire 10 year period from 1930 to 1939.

Figures showed that this year the person-per-house ratio was 3.4 by comparison with 6.6 in the 1939 decade.

Dwelling units registered in the city totalled 35,207, and most recent statistics show that 72.7 are lived in by their owners.

"Edmonton is a city of homes," said the commissioner.

Mr. Hodgson spoke of the Dawson Creek housing development as an outstanding achievement.

A resolution asking the city to press for continuance of rentals control was turned down by a vote of the Property Owners' Association.

NEW APPOINTMENT

Western Air Lines in an announcement from headquarters in Los Angeles have elected Arthur F. Kelly, 36, as vice-president in charge of sales. Mr. Kelly has been 15 years in the air transportation business and joined Western in 1937 when he was made regional traffic manager for Montana and Canada. The air line at present is awaiting international authority to extend their northwestern terminus at Lethbridge to Edmonton.

ON HOLIDAY

Well-known oldtimer Delbert McFarland is in Edmonton for a few days on a mixed business and pleasure trip. Mr. McFarland was formerly owner of McFarland Shoe Co. He retired last year to live at Victoria.

COMES OF AGE

Edmonton has finally arrived—on the eastern Canadian business man's map.

Don McKay, chamber of commerce executive secretary, said on his return from the Canadian Chamber annual meeting in Montreal that eastern businessmen now show an attitude toward Alberta and Edmonton entirely different from previous years.

"Whereas a couple of years ago they used to say, 'Edmonton—that's in Alberta, isn't it—or is it in B.C.?' It was a different story this time," said Mr. McKay.

"They showed a keen interest in the national importance of our province and our city."

Two Blazes Cause Minor Damage Here

Two fires early today razed a garage, destroying an old model car, and caused water damage to a Highlands apartment.

First blaze was in a garage owned by Martin Goodall at corner of 127 avenue and 79 street. Garage was burned to the ground at 5:30 a.m.

Damage was slight when flames broke out in the Gibbard Block at 112 avenue and 65 street at 12:57 a.m. Fire is believed to have started in a ventilating flue on the second floor.

Probable cause, said fire officials was a cigarette end carelessly tossed into the ventilator.

Tb. Death Rate Shows Decline In Province

The tuberculosis death rate during 1948, in Alberta as in the rest of the Dominion, was the lowest ever recorded in Canada,

According to figures released today by the Alberta Tuberculosis Association, the death rate in this province last year was 30.6 per 100,000 population,

Canada's death rate during the same period 371.

Ontario's 19.2 per 100,000 was the lowest in Canada, with Quebec topping the death list with 58.4.

In Alberta last year, 259 persons died of the disease. The total includes 115 women and 144 men.

The association points out that "there is a distinct relation between the downward trend in Tb. death rates and the increasing percentage of cases found in the early stages."

Alberta Spends $31 Per Person

Income Per Capita Hits $87, Accounts Report Shows

By Pat McVean

Bulletin Staff Reporter

Alberta spent $31.06 of its income on each citizen in the province during the year ending March 31, 1949.

This is announced today in Public Accounts released by provincial government auditor C. K. Huckvale, CA.

The 400-page volume supplements public accounts statements issued by Mr. Huckvale in September, when a provincial all-over surplus on income and capital accounts of $7,528,303 was announced.

While per capita expenditure from income account was $31.06, the province received in the form of income $87.69 on behalf of each person.

In addition, a total of $19,149,612 was spent by the province as capital expenses, including the major item of $13,288,384 for highways, bridges and ferries.

Capital receipts totalled $1,727,392.

DEBT DOWN

Meanwhile, public funded debt in Alberta was reduced to $150.41 per person, compared to $151.18 in 1948. In 1947 the public debt bill was $173.28 per person.

Total public funded debt this year is $120,826,203, the report indicates.

Here are some of the ways in which the province collected its $70,445,624 income for the year:

From real and personal property tax, $461,249;

From gasoline and fuel oil tax, $8,577,567;

From automobile and truck licenses, $4,775,876;

OTHER SOURCES

From petroleum and natural gas fees and rentals, purchase price for leases and royalties, $12,490,343.

From law-breakers' fines, $244,461.

From liquor sale profits, $11,047,545. (Albertans bought $37,000,000 worth of liquor and beer from government stores during the year.)

Some of the government's major income account expenditures were: $188,511 for maintenance of the parliament buildings.

$8,119,999 for grants to schools.

$352,359 for public service pensions.

$255,000 for payments to Royal Canadian Mounted Police for policing the province.

$47,141 expenses in connection with Alberta's submission to Board of Transport Commissioners in the freight rates battle.

$996,397 in hospital grants and $269,092 in cancer treatment and prevention.

$6,866,646 in payments to Alberta's old age pensioners.

Capital expenses included:

$13,307,661 for highways, bridges and ferries;

$3,922,353 for Public buildings and equipment;

$233,763 for construction of irrigation projects.

Dog and Bicycle License Fees Swell Treasury

Pooches, bikes, and other licensable possessions of city dwellers are helping swell city coffers well beyond last year's receipts.

To Oct. 31 they boosted payments to $132,295, compared with a 10-month 1948 figure of $117,442.

Bikes operating within the law have grown in number from 13,554 at Oct. 31 a year ago, to 15,572 now.

And while Edmonton may not be going to the dogs, the dogs are certainly coming here. There are 6,340 wearing legal tags this year, compared with only 5,909 a year ago.

Livestock Sale Nets $11,118

Total of $11,118 was realized from sale of 296 purebred rams and ewes at the annual sale yesterday sponsored by the Edmonton Exhibition Association.

Hampshire ewes brought an average of $27.58, and rams $37.50.

Average of $38.77 was received from sale of 96 Suffolk ewes, and 112 rams brought an average of $41.96.

Six Oxford rams sold at an average of $24.17, and seven Cheviot rams brought $33.93 average.

Old Church To Mark 57th Year

Edmonton's oldest church, Metropolitan, will observe its 57th anniversary tomorrow when special services will be held both morning and evening.

Services will be taken by Rev. Reid E. Vipond, who was inducted in September as minister.

Built in 1892, the same year the CPR was completed to Edmonton, Metropolitan began as a Methodist Church. The original building, however, was shared by Presbyterians, Baptists and Anglicans.

LARGER CHURCH

With the growth of the Methodist congregation, it was felt that a new, larger church was a necessity. In 1908, therefore, the new building, located at 83 avenue and 104 street, was built.

Throughout the following years, membership increased. Then in the early morning of January 1, 1942, fire completly destroyed the church.

Under the leadership of Rev. R. M. Thompson, Metropolitan's congregation set about building a new church.

This, the present building, was opened and dedication services held March 21, 1943. The late J. R. P. Sclater, then moderator of the United Church of Canada, officiated.

BUILDING STUCCOED

During the past summer, the building was stuccoed. Present plans involve a church hall to be built at the rear of the church.

Ministers who have served at Metropolitan during its 57 years include:

Rev. Geo. Elmitt, Rev. H. A. Goodwin, Rev. W. B. Chegwin, Rev. W. W. Adamson, Rev. C. W. Finch, Dr. T. J. Johnston, Rev. H. E. Gordon Rev. R. H. Leitch, Rev. E. Val Tilton, Rev. Norman Priestly, Rev. A. H. Going, Dr. Wm. Hollingsworth, Dr. W. M. Grant, Rev. R. M. Thompson and Rev. Reid E. Vipond.

Tomorrow morning's services will be broadcast over station CFRN.

New Centre Helps Blind In Alberta

New service centre at Edmonton now nearing completion by The Canadian National Institute for the Blind will provide the "tools for improved and expanded services" to handicapped persons of Northern Alberta.

That was the statement of Col. E. A. Baker, Toronto, managing director of the CNIB, who addressed a special meeting of the Northern Alberta board of the CNIB here Thursday.

New service centre, similar to others being planned for several areas in Canada, was made possible by the activities of the CNIB board here and the generosity of Northern Alberta citizens, Col. Baker said.

He paid special tribute to Mrs. W. D. Spence, vice-chairman of the local board, conferring on her an honorary vice-presidency of the national body, and to H. H. Cooper, active chairman of the local organization for 15 years.

Other officials of the CNIB who attended the meeting here were Capt. M. C. Robinson, Vancouver, national director for western Canada, and A. V. Weir of Toronto, general manager of the institute.

'Lest We Forget'

For heathen heart that puts her trust
In reeking tube and iron shard;
All valiant dust that builds on dust,
And, guarding, calls not Thee to guard:
And frantic boast and foolish word,
Thy mercy on Thy people, Lord.

"Thy mercy on Thy people, Lord," well may we echo these words, as we buy our Poppy today and pause to remember the significance behind the hallowed emblem, coloured like the ground by the blood of those who gave their lives that we, like the flowers of the fields, could live our lives in freedom, untramelled by the tyrant's scourge.

Is it only once a year that we pause to remember the horror and sacrifice of the Somme, Passchendaele, Calais, Burma, Italy and the crossing of the Rhine? Or do we turn to God, each one of us in his own way, and ask His guidance and mercy in preventing yet another world disaster.

Tomorrow the churches will be observing Remembrance Sunday, men and women throughout the great Commonwealth will gather together in prayer and supplication. The day will be dedicated to the dead.

Let the days after be dedicated to the living, let us start from now a great new upsurgence of those things spiritual, let us awaken in our hearts the slumbering emotion of human relations.

Let us appreciate at once that man at the present time stands on the very brink of extinction, surrounded by forces he is unable to control.

Christianity is the only force in the world today that can oppose and vanquish the destroying spectre of materialism that threatens to engulf us.

Our Weather

There cannot be a man who at some time in his life has not enjoyed a smug exultation by being able to say, "I told you so."

There are a lot of them about in Edmonton just now, judging by the self-satisfied smirks that greet one on sidewalk and in street car.

For long enough, we who live on the rolling prairies have done our best to sponsor the excellent weather that we enjoy. Often the weather has not responded quite as it should to our compliments concerning it's worth.

That is why in our moments of contemplation on the vagaries of our weather we should pause for a moment in sorrow for the fate of our brethren residing by the western sea.

Imagine having the choice between being periodically drowned, blown about by a gale, frozen by a damp penetrating cold, or just blacked out by a nasty, evil-smelling fog.

No wonder that folk arriving here from the big city over the mountains blink their eyes like denizens from an underground world, coming out into sunshine for the first time.

We pity them, poor souls.

Rulers of the World's Darkness

One of the qualities which made St. Paul one of the greatest figures in the primitive Church was his direct and positive interpretation of Christian doctrine.

Unlike many modern theologians who tend to dismiss what they cannot understand and forget what they do not like, St. Paul had very definite ideas about his mission and about what he taught.

Thus there is unusual force in his forthright letter to the Ephesians where he declares the reality of evil.

"For we wrestle not," he writes, "against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world."

There is a vigorous contrast in these words with the bland assertion of the modernists who say that evil is merely an absence of good, as cold is only an absence of heat, and with the genial pagan humanists who declare that nothing is really evil as long as one's intentions are all right.

This view of St. Paul of the reality of an active evil force is worthy of special consideration in these days when the power of organized evil is demonstrated every day, not only in the religious life of men, but in every phase of their social and political life.

It was no mere absence of good, for instance, that inspired Hitler to seek the destruction of all those virtues upon which Christian life depends.

It is no mere absence of good that leads other protagonists of evil to persecute organized religion, to sneer at honor, to laugh at the truth and to ridicule honesty and kindliness and compassion.

How can one believe that evil is merely a negative thing when the positive power of evil gnaws away daily at human liberties and at all those things which make human life sweet and tolerbale?

We do indeed in these days, as in the days of Paul, wrestle against the rulers of the darkness of this world.

We wrestle against that which is tangible, against that which has diabolic substance and against that which looks for the destruction of men's souls.

ODDS AND ENDS

By S. Morgan-Powell

West Leads East in Cultural Rise

Harold L. Weir's guest columnist today is S. Morgan-Powell, veteran Canadian journalist who retired two years ago from the post of editor-in-chief of The Montreal Star to assume the less onerous duties of literary and dramatic editor on that newspaper.

I am grateful for the opportunity, through courtesy of The Edmonton Bulletin, to send a message of greeting to the citizens of western Canada. This is no moment to discuss politics of any kind. The provincial, national and international scenes may be relegated to the speculative field. I wish to deal here with a subject which concerns all Canadians, irrespective of any political or racial considerations, and that is the matter of our cultural development.

The average citizen can do little or nothing to facilitate research in the atomic field or to influence the United Nations in making its momentous decisions; but every intelligent citizen can do his or her share, no matter how small, in helping forward the development of culture throughout this Dominion. There are those who would give priority to other considerations. To my mind, however, it seems both worthy and desirable that we should concern ourself with the elements of culture in our daily lives as well as with those matters which are kept before us continually by the press and radio.

Develop Culture

Broadly speaking, we can agree that culture concerns the art of living, and therefore all cognate arts—the arts of music, the theatre, literature, the pictorial arts and the constructive arts with which we come into contact every week of our lives.

It would seem an obvious truism that a nation's culture can be best fostered through co-ordinated effort, rather than by separate and unrelated movements, which so often develop trends along futile paths.

The development of a national drama is one field in which the importance of co-ordinated effort is obvious.

The development of a taste for good music is another. The cultivation of sound literary taste is a third, and so on.

In the nation's cultural life, as in its national growth, coordination between East and West is, I venture to suggest, not only eminently desirable, but vitally essential. Such coordination however, must be based upon a mutual understanding of ideals.

It cannot suffice that a citizen of Eastern Canada should be lacking in a reasonably broad knowledge of the ideals of Western Canada, and vice-versa.

An interchange of travel, of course, plays its part in such mutual understanding; but the dictum "Know Canada first," is, I am afraid, still largely ignored. Problems of economics are, inevitably, hampering factors in this connection, but the general principle should never be lost to sight. Its neglect will continue to be a severe handicap.

Insular Outlook

A close observation of the Canadian scene over half a century has led me to the conclusion that an insular outlook is more common in the East of this country than in the West.

Perhaps your broad open spaces inculcate broader viewpoints.

Whatever the explanation, the fact is, I think, undeniable, that the West has moved more steadily in more than one cultural field and progress in some cultural arts in the West has been quicker and more manifest than elsewhere in our land.

Particularly I would emphasize the progress you have made in music, and in the pictorial arts, a progress which is not due to any artificial stimulus.

Last year, the visit of a native ballet company from the West to Toronto and Montreal created nothing short of a sensation.

The East knew virtually nothing of this development in Canada of one of the greatest and oldest of all the cultural arts, but I can say without fear of contradiction that the proof presented to us visually of what had been done in the West undoubtedly served as a great stimulus to the cultivation of ballet in other parts of Canada.

The West is also setting an example worthy of emulation throughout the Dominion in the field of music generally, and we must also bow with what grace we can muster to the excellence of its standard of native poetry that will bear comparison with the best in other parts of the English speaking world.

It is, of course, impossible to deal in any detail with the scope of cultural growth within the limitations of a brief message, but I hope I have indicated my meaning sufficiently to make it clear.

If we can bring Canadians as a whole to the realization that co-operation between the various sections of our vast land in this matter of culture will inevitably contribute towards a raising of standards, then I think a good deal will have been done towards clearing the way for a speedier forward movement. But there must be contact between East and West if this is to be effected; and such contact will never, I fear, be brought about until its value and its necessity have been more widely realized.

Constant Effort

Public advocacy by writings and by utterance and by community action can do much. Education is, of course, the primary essential, and the most important. It can be education in the schools, in community undertaking, in the home, at the university, and at special institutions. One thing above all others is necessary, however.

Spasmodic effort is futile. It must be continuous, co-operative and sparked by honest enthusiasm. Enthusiasm can only be generated when a mutual understanding of ideals has developed, mutual recognition of the fact that, unless they are pursued in a spirit of common understanding, they are likely to remain stagnant rather than to progress.

This, then, is the message I would send today to you fellow-citizens of ours in the West. I believe that there is an honest desire to co-operate in cultural matters on the part of the citizens of eastern Canada, and I have never lost my faith that this country's native genius will, if encouraged and developed by the co-ordinated efforts of the people as a whole, win for us that cultural place in the van of progress which we are destined to occupy.

From Today's News

By DE WITT MACKENZIE

One of the knotty problems likely to be encountered at next week's meeting of the British, American and French foreign ministers in Paris, revolves about Marshall Plan chief Paul Hoffman's call for economic integration of Europe.

Hoffman sprang a sensation last Monday when he placed this sweeping proposal before the Paris council of 18 cabinet ministers which governs the organization of European economic cooperation. He declared he wanted nothing less than the abolition of trade quotas, exchange restrictions and tariffs.

He went further. He made it clear that it might be hard to get more funds from the United States Congress unless the Marshall Plan countries showed more willingness to join a single economic unit.

Sir Stafford Cripps, British chancellor of the exchequer, took mild issue with this proposal in addressing the council. He said Britain was trying to combine her responsibilities and interests as a leading member of the sterling area and the British commonwealth, with support for the development of unity in Europe.

Sir Stafford added that Britain couldn't integrate her economy into that of Europe in any way that would conflict with these other responsibilities.

Well, the British attitude set speculation going. The feeling among many observers in Washington is that London is far from entering wholeheartedly into any such sweeping program as Hoffman calls for. Some profess to see a policy of aloofness. In view of this I asked an authoritative British source to explain London's position.

What I got was mainly an amplification of Sir Stafford's statement in Paris.

The sum and substance of all this, I take it, is that the concrete proposals for economic integration of western Europe will have to be made before the specific British intentions will be known. The way matters now stand it seems plain that Britain intends to go cautiously in the matter.

Christianity Before Politics

Editor, Bulletin—Much has been said recently with regard to "The family that prays together, stays together."

This has been particularly emphasized with regard to individuals and families, but I think it may have an even much wider scope by applying it to our Commonwealth of Nations.

When I see our Canadian government trying to tear to pieces the common bond of union with Great Britain by abolition of appeals to the Privy Council, so as to sever the last tie with the empire, I feel that such a spirit of disunity is altogether contrary to the kingdom of Jesus Christ, and if it succeeds in severing Canada from the Mother Country we may live to rue the day of its accomplishment.

Christianity before politics is the only safe basis upon which to build.

Alberta Writers In Bigtime

Editor Bulletin—As next week is being observed throughout Canada as Canadian Book Week through the efforts of the Canadian Authors' Association, it is my privilege, on behalf of the Edmonton branch of that organization, to ask your aid in doing whatever may be possible to publicize the writings of Canadians, and more particularly, of Albertans.

The local libraries and bookstores are co-operating in this worthwhile effort; and it is our hope that through the medium of the press and radio, bookstores and teachers in northern Alberta may be interested.

While some of our more-modest writers receive little recognition, it is worthy of note that others have "made the bigtime", as an illustration of which in one issue of an internationally-known magazine recently, no fewer than seven contributors were Canadians—at least three, Albertans.

Doesn't Like Mayor's Picture

Editor, Bulletin.—Your noon edition of the Bulletin dated Nov. 3, the day after election day, carries a picture of our leading citizen, His Worship Sidney Parsons, and I am sure that everyone will agree with me that to print such a picture is either intended to ridicule the mayor or the City of Edmonton, or both. I did not vote for Mr. Parsons—I supported Mr. Gleave, but I am sure that the picture you carried does not in any way resemble the mayor. If you are going to carry on this belittling of the mayor as you did in the case of ex-mayor Harry Ainlay you seemed to have started rather early. I take it that the editor was responsible for the editing of this picture and for once I agree with the late Mr. Aberhart, once Premier of this Province, that the press can have too much leeway.

W. J. WILLIAMS.

(The Bulletin's only purpose in publishing the picture was to show how happy Mayor Parsons was over his victory—Ed.)

Didn't Know Where To Vote

Editor, Bulletin—The civic election is over and a little over a third of the eligable voters turned out.

It is just possible that a large percentage of those people hadn't the foggiest idea where their poll was. I looked through several Bulletins but couldn't seem to find any information as to where our poll was. This information should have been published on the front page of Tuesday (Nov. 1, 1949) paper.

I am sure it would have been greatly appreciated and would have saved the voters a lot of unnecessary steps, and been more in the interest of this city than whether Deanna Durbin gets a divorce or "if you care for fried eggs your perfectly normal."

While I'm here I'd like to say a few words about Dorothy Galloway's column. We do have a few horn happy motorists among us. As for her profane language, it is about as unbecoming to a lady columnist as a dirty face.

Prosperity Is Base of Crisis

Editor, Bulletin—It came as rather a shock to read in your number of September 20th an editorial that says that at least 75 per cent of the people of Alberta would be in favor of continued rental control. You argue that, if the Dominion Government finds itself forced to abandon this control, the Provincial government should take it over.

Your argument is that controls are vicious, but that they have to be kept in effect when there is a crisis. What crisis is there in Edmonton? There is a crisis of prosperity, and that is why there is an acute shortage of housing.

In every Canadian city throughout history there has been an acute shortage of housing when business was booming and times were good. It is only now that the idea is being preached that when times are extra good in a community the Government should keep rentals down, and thus encourage people to use more housing than they need and discourage investors from building housing for rentals.

There is a crisis in Edmonton—a crisis of prosperity. Would you prefer another sort of crisis, such as Edmonton has known in the past? Would you prefer a situation in which houses were empty, and people doubling up, simply because they could not afford to pay any rental at all?

As a matter of fact, rental control has played no small part in producing the present shortage of housing. With rentals kept artificially low, and people forbidden to move, the effect is simply to increase the space occupied by some families, while leaving other families unable to find any space at all. All that you have to do is to look among your friends in Edmonton and you will find plenty of cases of this sort.

There is no war at present. There is no overall shortage of housing in Canada. The number of people per house is now the smallest in Canadian history. There is a maldistribution of housing, as the result of rental control, but there is certainly no shortage in general.

There is a shortage in Edmonton, but that is not the result of any sort of a crisis, except the crisis which is produced by a boom. Would it not be wiser for you to point with pride to the housing shortage in Edmonton, which is the best of evidence that Edmonton is booming, and, if you have faith in the continued prosperity of Edmonton, to urge people to build houses and to relieve the shortage in the only practicable fashion?

Up to 1941 the Canadian people were always able to provide themselves with housing without any interference by the Government. Considering that the Canadian people are more prosperous than ever, and that rentals have not increased, even where there is no control, any more than in proportion to other prices and the income of the average citizen, why on earth is there any need to control rentals any more than to control any other prices.

Lot of Girls Try to Show Off

Editor, Bulletin—Regarding criticism of girls at dances:

I am a girl who dearly loves dancing and I agree with "Geo. E. Ley" that a lot of girls are just trying to show off when they bob up and down on the dance floor.

If I were a boy, I sure wouldn't ask a girl to dance if I had seen her trying to lead her partner.

The average boy, if he holds you properly, can lead even a poor dancer without any trouble. I am no expert on the floor, but can follow almost anyone.

Incidentally, I read your letters' column every night.

Looking Backward

1889—60 Years Ago

Manitoba Indians, taken east for athletic games, are now back home.

1899—50 Years Ago

Isaac Cowie left for England to organize a company to operate dredges on the river.

George Gilmer is building an addition to his grain warehouse.

1909—40 Years Ago

First soil was turned today on the Alberta and Great Waterways railway some 16 miles north of here.

Bristol—Theresa Grant, suffragette who tried to punch Winston Churchill, was given a one-month sentence in jail for being a public nuisance. Churchill tried to get her a suspended sentence.

1919—30 Years Ago

King George V issued an appeal to all British subjects to observe Armistice Day by two minutes silence at the appointed hour.

1929—20 Years Ago

Eight Canadian airmen, headed by Col. C. D. H. McAlpine of Dominion Exploration, missing in the north for two months, were found alive and well on Victoria Island.

1939—10 Years Ago

Roosevelt signed the "neutrality act of 1939" which ended the embargo on arms sales to France, Britain and Germany, and established a neutrality policy designed to keep the U.S. from being drawn into war.

Nehru Needs More Realism

Prime Minister Nehru of India is proud of his country and of the fact that it is going to handle its own affairs in its own way without any ties to any bloc. In Vancouver, he again declared that India will not tie to any power bloc in world politics, but will work in its own way for world peace.

Those sentiments may be very fine, in a stuffy sort of way, but they do not indicate that India is becoming very practical in her approach to world questions.

This attitude is so like that of the ultra conservative family in your district that prides itself upon minding its own business. This family would never think of peering over the back fence. It would resolutely shut its eyes to anything that happened next door. It would sit in isolated respectability while robbers broke into the next house.

You find these people everywhere. They are the ones who refuse to interfere when property is being damaged. They are the kind who would stroll unconcernedly down the street while a hold-up was in progress. They would never think of phoning the police. After all, it's none of their business.

True, that sort of person never becomes a nuisance or objectionable in any way. But neither are they of much use to any community.

Must Choose Pride or Peace

It may be a nice sentiment to work for world peace. But surely if world peace is of more importance than national pride, it might be better if Premier Nehru were more ready to subject his pride to a few of the international realities. No single nation can work for world peace alone.

Years ago, Belgium suffered from ideas about rigid independence in all things. She refused to act in concert with any bloc. Instead, she waved the banner of national independence and so she was invaded.

The Scandinavian nations held to similar beliefs during the last war. Sweden still holds to those rigid beliefs, and because she does, she is actually weakening the struggle for world peace.

India, by her attitude, is only making it easier for gangster elements to flourish because she is too 'stiff-necked' to join in the community work of maintaining peace.

In communities, where there is no police-force, and so far as that goes, in communities where there is a police force, it is only possible to maintain peace and order if every resident accepts responsibility for interfering with acts of lawlessness. To achieve the best results there must be fullest co-operation.

Shows Idealism Not Realism

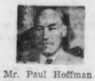
The same situation is to be found in international affairs. Unless the nations can all accept responsibility for joint action we cannot hope to achieve any ideal conditions of peace.

Premier Nehru, of course, agrees that co-operation is necessary, but he seems to forget that co-operation does not mean standing on one's dignity. He forgets that co-operation also involves a preparedness to accept assistance, if that assistance is going to result in benefits to the recipient which would enable it to do a better job.

Premier Nehru declares that his nation will not be bribed with funds or arms. Yet if there was a marauder attacking your community and you and your neighbors found it necessary to defend your homes, would you consider it bribery to be given a gun with which you could assist in defending your own home and the homes of your neighbors. Surely your refusal to accept the gun would be nothing short of a refusal to co-operate.

It may be a pretty sentiment to declare your resolution to stand alone, but it might also be an indication that Prime Minister Nehru should grow up beyond the age of fairy tales.

Elmore Philpott



Own Medicine Prescribed U.S.

Mr. Paul Hoffman has been telling Europe some harsh truths.

If the nations there want more American handouts, they must smash down their tariff walls.

They must set up one vast free trade area with no more barriers than apply between the forty-eight states of the U.S.A.

So far so good.

The advice is excellent in theory. But why should such sound advice apply only to the impoverished nations of Europe?

If the sauce is good for the poor goose, why not for the rich gander?

Why not, for instance, wipe out the tariff barriers between the U.S.A. and Canada?

Better still, why not wipe out all tariff barriers between the U.S.A. and entire British Commonwealth?

U.S. Is Core Of Problem

The core of the world's worst trouble is not that Western Europe is cut up into umpteen little nations—each with its tariff walls, different money system and language.

Granted, that is bad. It could be corrected and should be corrected.

But it is a minor difficulty as compared with another.

That is that the United States and Canada are trying to do something which is not only an economic impossibility, but is, in fact, a sure road to economic disaster.

We refuse to face the fact that trade is a two-way affair. We refuse to buy abroad to the extent that we sell abroad. Hence we are driven to all sorts of expedients like the Marshall Plan.

This has put Europe on what amounts to the most gigantic dole in all history. But the dole is dependent on the mood of the U.S. Congress. Hence, Uncle Sam has become, in fact, the financial overlord of all the ancient nations of Western Europe. You can literally feel the resentment against this in Europe. But open expression of humiliation against this relationship is impossible, because of the simple fact that Western Europe cannot obtain enough to eat in the next few years if supplies from North America are cut off for any reason whatsoever.

Canada Can Help Deal

Suppose the United States adopted a new policy, based on partnership with Europe, instead of on the plutocrat-pauper relationship.

Suppose Uncle Sam said to John Bull, for instance:

"Your credit is good with us 100 per cent. Buy as much as you want to buy from us. And we will keep the balances even year by year, either by buying an equal amount of your goods, or by using our surplus as investments in the sterling area."

At a single stroke, the above policy would end the economic need for the Marshall Plan—and all other such dubious devices. There would be no such thing as a "dollar famine" in European countries, because no actual cash would change hands year by year.

Year by year more and more properties in Europe, Asia or Africa would pass to U.S. hands. There would be huge investments in India and other parts of the sterling area—outside Europe.

Canada has it within her own power to solve a large part of Great Britain's problem by making a deal along the above lines.

We are in an extremely dangerous position because Marshall Plan funds are being used by Britain and other countries to pay for Canadian produce.

Either trade will be levelled off on the basis of British sales to Canada, or Canada must provide Britain with some new way to pay for our products.

We can't have it both ways. We have to buy more or sell less.

Volunteers Help Church

The United Church at Beverly celebrates its anniversary Sunday, Nov. 6, with Dr. Villett of Alberta College as guest speaker.

During recent years the church at Beverly has been moved, renovated, and generally improved until it is now one of the finest in Edmonton Presbytery. A great deal of the work has been done with volunteer labor.

The church serves the community in every possible way. Owing to lack of public school accommodation, the church hall has been made available to the school board. Many clubs serving boys and girls, and large church schools, make the building a centre of community life.

The Women's Association, with Mrs. A. Taylor as president, and Mrs. A. Birtle as secretary, does a great job. So do the senior and junior choirs, under the leadership of W. E. Curtis, with Miss Sophie Kaminsky as secretary and A. Abbott as chairman, along with Mrs. R. Hedley and Mr. K. Kempster as organist. Junior church school is handled well by Misses J. Hairsine and Arletta Brady. Rev. J. T. Stephens superintends senior school. Miss E. Nickerson is Lady Worker.

Lutherans Will Build

A Lutheran church for the West End is in the offering.

Under the leadership of Rev. E. G. Goos, field missionary of The Board of American Missions of the United Lutheran church in America, who has been working in West Jasper Place and Jasper Place since the beginning of July, Faith Lutheran Congregation was organised at Pentecostal Chapel, 148 street and 100 avenue.

Services have been conducted in the chapel since July and in September a Sunday school was begun which has shown constant growth, now numbering 40 pupils. The aim of the organization is to help in the Christian education of the youth of Jasper Place and West Jasper Place.

Special organization services, at which the members of the church council will be installed, will be conducted Nov. 13 at Jasper Place Community Hall and Pentecostal Chapel. Purchase of a site and the erection of a suitable parish chapel is contemplated in 1950. The elected officers of the organization are August Myck, Edwin Querengesser, Lloyd Grams and Paul Reiber.

Services Resumed In Community Hall

Rev. R. B. Layton, minister at Pleasantview United Church, has announced that services will be resumed Sunday morning at 11:00 a.m. in the Community Hall. It recently has been renovated.

Christian Science

"And Jesus went forth; and saw a great multitude, and was moved with compassion toward them, and he healed their sick." (Matthew 14: 14). "The divine nature was best expressed in Christ Jesus, who threw upon mortals the truer reflection of God and lifted their lives higher than their poor thought-models would allow — thoughts which presented man as fallen, sick, sinning, and dying." (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, by Mary Baker Eddy, p. 259). The Sunday Lesson-Sermon on "Adam and Fallen Man," in all Christian Science churches is composed of readings like the foregoing.

NATURAL GAS
"The Pearl in Alberta's Oyster"

Gives Albertans Canada's Best Cooked Meals

Compare a steak that has been broiled in a modern gas broiler; or a roast done to a turn in a modern gas oven. You'll then know why your meals right here in Alberta taste better than meals in any other place.

Only Natural Gas can give the quick searing flame that seals in meat juices. Only a Natural Gas oven provides the circulated ventilated heat that cooks your roast so beautifully, while keeping it firm and juicy too.

Meals taste better when cooked with Natural Gas . . . slowly or quickly, with a simmer flame or 500 degree heat as good cookery and food values demand.

Quick, easy, flexible, Natural Gas is a treasure few Canadian housewives outside of Alberta have the pleasure of knowing.

It's the service behind the little Blue Flame that makes your Natural Gas so good.

Jap Oranges Here For Yule

VANCOUVER, Nov. 5—(CP)—Importers said today Canadians can expect 85,000,000 Japanese oranges for the Christmas season this year.

The $1,000,000 shipment, largest in post-war trade with Japan, will start rolling in Nov. 25 aboard the SS. Island Mail.

Despite the abundance, however, the oranges are expected to sell at $1.30 a box, 20 per cent more than last year's prices of $1 and $1.10. It's a decrease, though, from the 1947 peg of $1.59.

Ruins Of Roman City Discovered

PARIS, Nov. 5.—(Reuters)—The ruins of a Roman city, with thermal baths in marble and green porphyrium, and a necropolis, have been discovered near the southern French town of Draguignan, where excavations have started under the auspices of the fine arts ministry.

America's glove and hat industries used most of the 40,000,000 cultivated rabbit skins exported by Great Britain annually.

Inside Hollywood

By Virginia Macpherson

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., — (BUP)—A man who's been painting luscious red lips on beautiful girls for over 40 years said today you'll never get any "10 most kissable" list out of him.

All he knows, said make-up artist Bob Stephanoff, is how his lips look. For research on how they are in action you'll have to go elsewhere.

"I just put 'em on," he shrugged. "I don't kiss 'em."

Why spoil an hour's work? Besides it's safer to collect lips as a hobby.

He has a collection of more than "30 perfect lips." These are close-up photos of his brushwork, with names of owners attached.

"I don't say these are the most kissable. But there's the lip-job I did on Susan Hayward for 'My Foolish Heart.' It combines sex with purity of motherhood—and that's Susan for you.

"Ann Blyth has nice lips, too. So has Joan Evans. She's young and fresh.

"And Virginia Mayo, there's a beautiful mouth."

Stephanoff guarantees his work. He makes 'em look "purty, with a come-and-get-me" twist. And there are times, he admitted, when it takes a lot of brushwork.

"What do they look like when they scrub their faces?" He hedged. "Well, now, you put me on the spot. Sometimes, not so good."

The Arts

Arts Advancing In Alta. Towns

Cultural Activities Head Says Fine Trend Evident

Albertans are getting cultured.

That was the news th's week from the man who should know—Richard MacDonald, co-ordinator of cultural activities for the provincial government.

He returned to Edmonton for one of his brief visits sandwiched between the many trips he takes over the province assisting arts and recreation groups during his three years in office.

And he commented that "There is a definite indication of increased interest in the arts generally" in this province.

"We're not surging ahead by leaps and bounds, of course, but then," says Mr. MacDonald, "a steady growth is much healthier."

HE HAS PROOF

Here's some of the proof Mr. MacDonald has seen:

1. Edmonton's Philharmonic Society has been re-organized, and recently held the city's first Symphony Week.

2. The Calgary Symphony has been formed, and held its first concert a couple of weeks ago. It is a composite 70-piece group formed of members of the Mount Royal and two other symphony groups, and is conducted by Creighton Hare.

Mr. MacDonald participated in first-concert ceremonies, then went with the group to High River, headquarters for the Foothills Musical Club. The event was such a success other Southern Alberta points want the symphony, but finances are proving a stumbling block.

MAY EXCHANGE

There is a possibility that an exchange visit with the Philharmonic here may take place this season.

3. The University Mixed Chorus tour has become an annual affair, and Southern Alberta centres are already dickering to make sure the chorus pays them a visit this spring.

Northern Alberta towns have asked for the chorus this year, but right now it doesn't seem possible because student singers have to begin summer jobs too soon.

4. There has been a notable increase in all the arts in the Peace River area. People in Alberta's northwest corner want more art exhibitions, drama and music.

PIONEER SPIRIT

There are glimpses of the old western pioneer spirit. Edmonton pianist Roman Stecura recently finished the first concert tour of the Peace River area.

And 65-year-old Miss Vaughan of Faust, who was formerly first violinist with the Bournemouth Municipal Orchestra in England, is teaching violin in the Faust district.

5. The next Dominion Drama Festival is going to be held in Alberta—in Calgary, of course, since Edmonton hasn't got a decent auditorium for such an event.

6. At least seven places will enter three-act plays this year.

One-act plays were formerly permitted, but festival rules have been changed to allow only three-act productions.

SMALL TOWN BREAK

7. To give smaller towns a break, the Alberta Drama League hopes to start a special one-act festival just for this province.

8. Red Deer now has its own Celebrity Series.

9. Edmonton has a summertime "pops" orchestra.

10. University night art classes have boomed in attendance this fall and towns like Vegreville are practically becoming art centres.

11. In the last three years, 28 new libraries have been started in the province.

But the picture isn't all sweetness and light.

We need more of that old pioneer spirit—artists like Roman Stecura, who will go into the country to provide live music intead of canned; music teachers like Miss Vaughan, who will go to rural centres to teach.

Mr. MacDonald says he knows of three Alberta centres that could provide a good living for music teachers, but simply can't get them.

Drumheller wants an organist and has advertised all over Western Canada for one No luck.

Nevertheless the future looks bright as far as the arts in Alberta are concerned.

"People like Jean Letourneau (Eastern tenor), who came to Edmonton recently on the advice of the Royal Toronto Music Conservatory's principal, Dr. Ettore Mazzolini, who predicts great things for this province; and Audrey Mitchell (speech arts teacher, who has begun a children's theatre in Edmonton), are coming to Alberta," said Mr. MacDonald.

"They are indicators of continued cultural growth."

CBC Search For Canada Music is On

By DON FLACH

Plugging Canada by means of radio is not an easy task without musical compositions tha' can be recognized as typically Canadian.

International service of the CBC, "has been frequently embarrassed by their rarity" says Ira Dilworth, especially when being "constantly asked by broadcasting organizations of other countries for Canadian songs."

To remedy the situation, Dr. Dilworth, who is general supervisor of the international service, is launching a song writing competition with a $2,500 jackpot to go to composers of the best ten Canadian songs entered in the event.

NATIONAL MUSIC

Basic idea of the competition as described by Mr. Dilworth is to secure vocal settings of words by Canadian poets.

"Canadian instrumental music Mr. Dilworth said is more highly regarded by listeners overseas than most Canadians imagine. Instrumental compositions broadcast by the Voice of Canada have been generously aclaimed in other countries."

In choosing appropriate lyrics, Mr. Dilworth advises composers to exercise the widest and most universal taste concerning their subject whether it has to do with pioneer events, the life of lumbermen, cattlemen, miners and fishermen, great national events or various aspects of the life and lansscape of Canada. Good Canadian poems with sufficient artistic merit are also acceptable.

WIDE RANGE

Compositions will be accepted over a wide range of styles such as frankly popular songs, singable ballads and serious settings for solo and vocal ensemble.

Prize is $250 for each of the ten best selected and will cover first performance rights on the International Service and Canadian service of the CBC.

Competition is not exclusively highbrow, although serious music is invited and will be given the fullest consideration. It is hoped that much authentic Canadian material of high quality will be made available by the competition to add to Canada's distinctiveness on the international air lanes.

Edmonton's own new talent show, the ACT Search for Talent, which has been making the round of central and northern Alberta towns, now is going farther afield for its third season.

Word has been received the show will make an appearance at Grande Prairie on the night of Nov. 26. Ten members of the show's cast and six of the Associated Canadian Travellers supporters will make the trip.

Portion of the program will be broadcast over Grande Prairie's own CFGP and a recording will be made for release over CFRN at a later date. Local winner on the program will be brought to Edmonton in the spring to participate in the finals of the talent competition.

Objective of the program is to be commended. In the past two years the show has raised about $30,000 for care and treatment of crippled children in central and northern Alberta.

★ ★ ★

First local release of the dramatization of Dickens' Nicholas Nickleby will be heard Monday at 8.30 p.m. CFRN. Adaptation of the Dickens novel for radio has been done by Tommy Tweed who successfully did last year's adaptation of Pickwick Papers.

On the same evening on the Dominion network, first of a new half-hour program to be known as "Monday Magazine" will be heard at 8.30 p.m.. Crammed into the half-hour will be items of interest in the fields of sport, humor, current events, human interest, music, as well as points of view on controversial topics and informal interviews with personalities in the news.

Not all of these items will be included in each broadcast. Only two regular features will be a sports column and two or three vewpoints on a controversial problem.

★ ★ ★

Monday Night Radio Theatre presents a radio adaptation of the motion picture "High Wall." Playing role of main character will be Van Heflin assisted by Janet Leigh. She is making her first appearance on the program.

The play is psychological in nature revealing a war veteran's fight for peace of mind and justice. Program is heard at 7 p.m. on CJCA and CBX.

★ ★ ★

Stage 50 Sunday at 7 p.m. on CBX will present "Caste" by the 19th century English dramatist Tom Robertson. His name heads the list of those who strove to introduce serious thought and actual living types into the theatre.

When the play was first presented in London in 1867 it was part of a one-man revolution for reform in the theatre.

TROPICANA CAST . . . Fiery dances.

Novel Dance Program Offered City Audience

Edmonton will get something different in the way of entertainment next week.

The Varsity Series' third presentation will play in Westglen school auditorium on Tuesday and Wednesday nights, when Talley Beatty and his company of dancers and musicians will present "Tropicana."

Variety Series subscribers should note that "Tropicana" will begin at 8.15 p.m. each night, instead of the Series' usual 8:30 p.m.

Beatty and his troupe will present a two-hour program of African, South American and Jazz, Cuban folk music and Southland blues.

The group's advances describe the show as "breath-taking," "intoxicating," and "fiery."

There are nine performers in "Tropicana," two drummers and a pianist, and six dancers, including Beatty himself, who was formerly a mainstay of Katherine Dunham's famed troupe.

PROGRAM PLAN

Here's the program they will present: "Handkerchief Dances," Cuban folk music; "Rural Rhumba," Blanco-Castro-Ramirez; "Escendas de Cannaval," Valdez-Patterson-Belasco-Gillespie; Drum interlude; "Kanzo," Haitian folk music; "Se Va Cayman," Cuban rhythm; "Southern Landscape," Elie Siegmeister.

"Saludades Do Brazil," Milhaud; "Tone Poem," Dean Sheldon; "Monday Every Day," Duke Ellington; "St. Louis Blues," W. C. Handy; "The Stroll," Count Basie; and "Night Cafe."

Varsity Organ To Mark Nov. 11

Program for University organist L. H. Nichols' annual November 11 Memorial Day recital has been announced. It will be presented in Convocation Hall at 10:30 a.m. next Friday.

Included are "Good Friday Spell", Patrik Vietbad; two Choral Preludes, Bach; "Requiem Aeternam", Harwood; "Dead March in Saul", Handel; Choral Prelude on an Easter Theme, Deshayes.

Several hymns for congregational singing are included, and any persons interested are invited to be present,

Town Talk About Music

By DICK SHERBANIUK

Richard MacDonald, co-ordinator of cultural activities for the provincial government, carries a recording tape apparatus with him whenever he goes on one of his frequent jaunts out of Edmonton.

He carries the recording gear with him in case he comes across a musical find, in which case he "tapes" a performance and brings it back to Edmonton to use as sales talk assistance if the young musician needs financial help.

Sometimes he makes recordings of musical or drama groups so he can play them back to let them hear what they sound like and correct necessary faults.

City pianist Roman Stecura almost got a break recently.

Auditioned by Celebrity Series' director A. K. Gee some time ago, he was booked to accompany well-known 'cellist Zara Nelsova when she arrived here Nov. 16 for her concert, since Miss Nelsova didn't have an accompanist.

Unfortunately, Miss Nelsova, who will be flying back from Europe shortly to begin her concert tour here, made some unexpected arrangements in Winnipeg and ended up having an accompanist after all.

Because Edmonton doesn't have a proper auditorium, Celebrity Series patrons didn't see and hear everything the Vienna Choir Boys had to offer, when the choir sang here this week.

The Viennese lads did a whole operetta in costume in Calgary, which they couldn't do here because facilities weren't adequate.

★ ★ ★

Edmonton Celebrity Series director Mrs. Ernest Meaden loved the boys not only for their singing but for their conduct. They were perfect little gentlemen at their Hallowe'en party after the concert.

The only English they speak consists of "Yes" and "Thanks very much."

Incidentally, the Choir Boys travel in their own bus, with their own nurse, a prefect (in charge of discipline), plus director Herald Hedding and the choir's business manager.

★ ★ ★

Philharmonic Society conductor Edgar Williams got a double kick out of Symphony Week.

Not only did he see his organization get a lot of interest from musical Edmontonians, but when he viewed one of the University's musical films—of Arturo Toscanini and the NBC Symphony—he recognized among the symphony members a lot of old friends with whom he played in New York.

Said he nostalgically, "I saw it twice."

★ ★ ★

Celebrity Series director A. K. Gee, of Winnipeg, spent three days in town last week, saw the George Formby show go over a terrific success.

He plans on bringing genial George back next year, probably not on the Variety Series ticket, but on a separate two or three-night run. It's probable that an entirely different troupe will be returning with the Lancashire ukelele player.

★ ★ ★

Incidentally, jazz fans may be interested to know that Mr. Gee may bring hot trumpeter Louis Armstrong to the city a month or so after Christmas.

What with everything from the Minneapolis Symphony to bandleader Lionel Hampton appearing in Edmonton this winter, Gee is importing entertainment to suit every taste.

★ ★ ★

Eager news, society, and music reporters didn't have much luck with brilliant mezzo-soprano Ebe Stignani, who sang here a couple of weeks ago.

Madame Stignani doesn't speak any English.

Hailing from Milan, Italy, she spent just four or five months on this continent last year, and hasn't had much chance to learn our languarge.

On the night of her concert, city tenor and radio announcer Tony Biamonte was on hand to do any necessary interpreting in Mrs. Stignani's native Italian.

New Books Are Varied

BY THEIR FRUITS. By W. H. Moore. Pickering Printers Guild Ltd.

The world has drifted out of the stream of civilization because there is amongst us no real reflection on what civilization is.

With this quotation from Albert Schweitzer, W. H. Moore, scholar, economist, and parliamentarian, begins his analysis of the results of socialism in the various countries where it has been tried.

Only by examining current socialist doctrines in the light of such results can we determine the value they have for us today, he believes.

Mr. Moore has two main theses. First of these is that progress is neither continuous nor part of the natural order of things. All of our past progress is due to conquest of the basic freedoms by resolute men and women.

Secondly, freedom is one and indivisible. And that is his answer to socialist proposals that we exchange part of our political freedom for "cradle to grave" security.

It cannot be done except at the risk of losing the freedom we have painfully acquired in the past.

Beginning with Greek and medieval economic theories, he runs through mercantilism to laisser faire. Only in this latter period did the doctrine of individual freedom develop, he asserts.

And the most persistent opposition to this theory is the conflicting doctrine that the group, not the individual is of prime importance.

That we must combat the advocates of group supremacy now if civilization is to survive in its democratic form, is the primary thesis of the book.

Whether or not one agrees with Mr. Moore is a matter for the individual to decide. But "By Their Fruits" is an interestig and scholarly treatment of a much-discussed present day problem.—M.T.

Poetry, Fiction Prizes of $200 Are Announced

Two $200 prizes have been announced for poetry and fiction by the Northern Review.

Purpose of the awards is to encourage Canadian writing, and will be given to works published in the review during the coming year.

Judges of the competition will be Dr. A. J. M. Smith, editor, Book of Canadian Poetry; Alan Crawley, editor, Contemporary Verse, and L. A. MacKay, professor of classics at University of California.

Judges of fiction awards will be Dr. H. C. Files, head of McGill University English department; Earle Birney, Canadian author, and professor Douglas Clarke of Sir George Williams College.

Competition rules may be obtained from the editor of the Northern Review, 2475 Van Horne avenue, Montreal.

CARMEN REHEARSALS NEAR FINAL STAGE

A lot of north Alberta music lovers will be attending the Edmonton Civic Opera Society's production of "Carmen" November 23 to 26.

Tickets are not only being sold to city residents, but orders are pouring in from district points.

Mrs. J. B. Carmichael, musical director of the Society, said this week that Mrs. Leon Riopel, president of Morinville's musical club Les Hirondelles telephoned long distance to order 58 seats.

LARGE BLOCKS

A group from Two Hills, and another from Stettler, have ordered large blocks of seats.

And 'phone calls are even coming in from Calgarians who want to see Edmonton's version of "Carmen".

In the meantime, rehearsals are being held three or four times a week as the Society goes into the stretch before the show goes on stage.

Clifford Newdall, the lead tenor, will arrive Nov. 11 from Washington to rehearse with the rest of the cast.

CROSBY CHRISTMAS RECORDS

Xmas Music to Rhumbas Given Recommendations

Christmas is fast a-coming, and Decca, as usual, hasn't wasted any time.

This week, first copies of Bing Crosby's latest album of Yuletide songs arrived in town.

Called "Christmas Greetings," it's his third on the same subject.

With the Andrews Sisters, the Ken Lane Singers, and an orchestra and choir conducted by Simon Rady, he sings everything from "The First Noel" to "Here Comes Santa Claus (Right Down Santa Claus Lane)," on three 10-inch discs.

Right behind Crosby, with a single record, are Russ Morgan and orchestra with a peppy fox trot entitled "The Mistletoe Kiss," and on the reverse side "Blue Christmas." Decca.

Also for Decca, Danny Kaye has recorded a screamingly funny number entitled "The Peony Bush," in which he imitates such popular vocalists of the day as Perry Como, Frank Sinatra, and Ezio (Some Enchanted Evening) Pinza. Kaye's mimickings are surprisingly accurate. On the reverse is a sound version of "Iv'e Got A Lovely Bunch of Coconuts."

Another pretty fair version of Lovely Coconuts is by London Records' Primo Scala, his banjo, and accordion band. On the reverse is a so-so waltz, "The Echo Told Me A Lie."

Scala has cut another lively number, which sounds like London music hall stuff, titied "Who Were You With Last Night?" It's backed by a very corny "There's A Lovely Lake In London."

If you like Latin American music, you may be interested in a new London album, "Rhumbas," by Armando Oreflche and his Havana Cuban Boys. On three 10-inch discs, they play numbers like "La Comparsa," "Sensemaya," "Rhumba Blanca," "Almendra," "El Carnaval del Uruguay," "Granada." On three 10-inch discs.

Josephine Premice and the Calypso Rhythm Boys have recorded similar stuff on a Decca single, "Sweetie Joe" and "I Go Siesta." — R. W. S.

LONG LONG LOOK across broad acres of his Warwick farm is reward enough for hard work and years of toil for Jacob Melenka, head of one of province's master farm families. Profitably operated farm with abundant grain fields and herds of plump livestock was recognized t[illegible] by agriculture department judges as one of best in Alberta.

ONCE PRO HOCKEY player, Joseph G. Dusseault of Vimy thinks real highlight of his career is his part in recent "Save the Soil" campaigns in Northern Alberta. Twice winner of soil saving trophy, the Vimy farmer was recognized this week as one of Alberta's five master farmers.

BIT OF OLD QUEBEC combines with much of new northwest at Joseph Paquette farm at Donnelly. French-Canadian Paquettes were skeptical when friends entered name for Master Farm Family competition.

MORE RIBBONS than you could find on department store notion counter decorate walls of Edgar farm home at Innisfail. Wilfred J. Edgar's prize herd of Hereford cattle is reason for recognition at leading Canadian stock shows. Top quality livestock added to Edgar family's tally when points were counted in Master Farm Family contest.

Master Farm Family Awards Announced

First annual Master Farm Family awards were announced today by Hon. David Ure, Alberta Minister of Agriculture. They are:

Joseph G. Dusseault Family, Vimy; Wilfred J. Edgar Family, Innisfail; Lavolee R. Jensen Family, Magrath; Jacob F. Melenka Family, Warwick; Joseph L. Paquette Family, Donnelly.

In releasing the five names of those gaining recognition by an award of $1,000, an engraved plaque and a name plate for the farm entrance, Mr. Ure extended warmest congratulations to "these five farm families who, through their splendid records in their communities, have earned the respect of their neighbors and brought distinction and dignity to their vocation."

"Over 100 families were nominated," stated the Minister. "Each of these showed that they possessed, in abundant measure, those qualities of right livink and clear thinking that distinguishes the successful farm family. One purpose of the Master Farm Family is to find and honor those who achieved notable progress in farming, home-making and citizenship.

MAKE CONTRIBUTION

"Without exception, those nominated are making an important contribution to agriculture in Alberta, and by their example are encouraging greater interest in farming as a way of life. The choice is, however, limited to five each year and so many others must of necessity go unrewarded except by the satisfaction of a job well done."

Mr. Ure also expressed his appreciation of the work done by the various judging committees. "I wish to extend my personal thanks," he said, "to all those who have given so freely of their time and effort in the task of making these selections. I'm sure they merit the deepest appreciation of the department and the agriculture industry generally."

The Master Farm Family program is a development of the original Master Farmer movement which was introduced into western Canada in 1929. In adopting the new program it was decided that its scope should be broadened so that the head of the house shares the honor with his wife and his children.

HONOR SEEKS FAMILY

Announced first in the speech from the Throne last February, the search for Alberta's Master Farm Families began early in the spring season. As was said about the old Master Farmer movement, the honor seeks the family. That is to say, no one can submit his own application for the award; the family must be nominated by at least three of his friends and neighbors and must be accepted by the nominee concerned.

Interest in the program throughout rural Alberta was high and by July 1, the date on which all nominations had to be filed with the local District Agriculturist, well over one hundred families had been named. A record book and a scoring card for each individual family was filled out and the long process of elimination was undertaken.

Cattlemen Cut Disease

Because of a control program inaugurated a year ago, Alberta farmers are looking forward to the day when dairy herds will be completely free of costly mastitis and Bang's disease.

A report from E. E. Ballantyne, director of veterinary services, provincial department of agriculture claims "the results of one year have shown that the program is on the right track to eliminate the losses from these two diseases."

Annual cost of Bang's disease and mastitis to the Canadian dairyman has been placed as high as $50,000,000.

The program introduced in the Edmonton milk shed a year ago was designed to produce the best and safest milk possible for the city of Edmonton.

Dr. Ballantyne says that in four or five years, Bang's disease should be eliminated completely.

One farmer reduced the disease among his herd from 66.3 percent to 12.5 percent in three months following treatment and adopting recommendations for milking procedure.

It is estimated that 7,500,000 lbs. of superior quality milk will come into Edmonton during 1949 as a result of the department's program.

Glycerin is used to preserve untanned leather.

Money Spree Ends With Modern Job

Page The Cleaner Offers One Of West's Best Plants

Page The Cleaner, well-known city dry cleaning establishment located at 9338-118 avenue has just completed a $50,000 spending spree in which new equipment and an addition to the firm's premises took up most of that total.

Sitting in the firm's Venetian-blinded front office, plant superviser Alex Starko has only this to say about the spending spree. "It was worth every cent . . . The plant can now turn out a better quality of cleaning in much faster time. The machine age, you know, was a bit late arriving for much of the cleaning industry."

Mike Starco, father of Alex and one of those connected with Page The Cleaner's operations, is equally enthusiastic about the new plant features. He is of the opinion that the new machinery and floor space have doubled the capacity of the plant.

A trip through the various sections of the plant, directed by Alex Starko, was informative and a relief to one who often has wondered what happens to clothing in the cleaning emporiums.

STARTS HERE

Soiled, ripped or otherwise imperfect clothing, furniture and furs enter Page The Cleaner's portals at the check-in desk presided over for 14 years by Mrs. [illegible]. Just like the Big House, all articles checked in at Page's are first given a number. That starts a sequence leading to cleaner, brighter garments and fresher-looking furs.

From the check-in counter, articles go to the sorting room, a sizeable space presided over by one man. He sorts out the various colors, meanwhile running all cuffs through a special cuff-cleaning machine. This fellow assumes that everything is on the cuff.

Soiled articles of clothing then go to the cleaning room, fitted with two large washers, a large speed-drier and two slow-driers, a refining unit and a filtering unit for the solvent. Solvent, of which the plant uses about 300 gallons per week, is refined and filtered after each use and discarded long before exhaustion sets in.

Most of the new and costly equipment is in this cleaning room. Refiner, filter, driers are newest types available. New washers are ordered and are expected to be operating shortly.

TAKE OUT SPOTS

Once out of the driers, articles go to the stain and spot removing room. Operators with steam guns and several varieties of cleaning fluids take out all grease and other spots in jig time. Then to the finishing rooms, either men's or women's and the final pressing job.

Pressing is done with a new battery of air vacuum machines, latest in the field, and three intriguing air-form pressers for truly gentle renovating of material.

The "Last Roundup" in the Page plant is the check-out room, where finished articles are checked for work flaws and where prices are tagged on.

One of the new machines is for the purpose of cleaning and glazing furs. This two-mouthed titan is said to give furs the most thorough and gentlest cleaning ever devised. And in a fraction of the time required by old-style methods.

Off in a corner work two skilled tailoresses, able to do custom or repair work in reasonable time.

NO PIPE DREAM

What is seen overhead throughout the Page plant is no pipe-dream. A specially-built pipe transit system, spread over most of the plant's working area carries articles of clothing on hangers from one department to another. A coating of wax on the pipe makes things slide beautifully.

Finished articles are delivered via four commercial vehicles operated by the firm. Pickup service is maintained at all times.

About twice as much power is required to stop an express train as to start it.

SALT CELLAR COMES HIGH

National Ads Show Big Jump

TORONTO, Nov. 5 — (C P) — National advertising in Canadian daily newspapers increased 23.4 per cent in September compared with the same month last year, the Canadian Daily Newspapers Association reported today. This compares with an increase of nine per cent in United States newspapers during the same period.

As it grows older, glassware becomes more fragile.

Overseas Yule Mail To Close This Month

Add signs that Christmas is closer than you think.

Annual warning was issued today urging citizens to ensure delivery of overseas mail and parcels by observing the deadline closing dates.

Post office has set the following dates as final

Nov. 8, letters and parcels to the continent.

Nov. 15, parcels to United Kingdom.

Nov. 29, letters to United Kingdom.

MARK "GIFT PARCELS"

Bonafide, unsolicited gift parcels up to 20 pounds may be mailed to the United Kingdom. These must be plainly marked, "gift parcel."

Parcels containing food cannot be insured.

Total value of parcels to the United Kingdom or other countries without an export permit must not exceed $25.

Post office authorities especially appeal to the mailing public to use great care in packaging their articles securely. They recommend strong corrugated containers wrapped tightly in several folds of thick wrapping paper and securely tied with strong twine.

NEED DECLARATION FORMS

Senders are warned not to use tissue paper for outside wrapper or ribbon to tie outside of package.

Other important things to observe: Enclose only things suitable for mailing and be certain all mail is fully prepaid, correctly and clearly addressed and with a return address on outside of package.

Persons contemplating sending parcels overseas should get them dispatched as quickly as possible.

To assist in this the post offices now have labels and declaration forms.

All further inquiries should be made very early, officials point out.

Clean Seed Use Is Stressed At Westlock Plant

WESTLOCK, Nov. 5—In 23 years farmers have lost $58,000,000 through 140,000 cars of dockage shipped east, Hon. David Ure, minister of agriculture, said as he opened the Pembina Farmers' Seed Cleaning plant on Thursday.

Addresses by Mr. Ure and by Major H. L. Strange of Winipeg, were features of the program.

Other speakers included R. D. Jorgenson, MLA for the Pembina constituency, Longman, deputy minister of agriculture, Art Wilson, field corps commissioner, D. L. Campbell, representing the plant products division of the Dominion department of agriculture, and A. M. Smith representing the Alberta Seed Growers' Co-Operative Association. Mayor Miller Watt presented greetings on behalf of the town.

THREE-WAY PLAN

Mr. Ure said the Westlock plant was the second to operate under the plan where the provincial government made a grant together with the municipality. The Westlock plant is the first in the province which is operated on the three way plan, under the Co-Operative Associations' Act.

As an example of the necessity of seeding clean seed and delivering clean grain, Mr. Ure said that in 23 years 140,000 car loads of dockage had been shipped east, representing a freight and feed cost and loss to the farmers of about $58,000,000.

Mayor Strange stressed the fact that in cleaning of registered seed great care be taken to maintain standards. A good cleaning plant, carefully operated, could do much to assure this high standard. He commended the plant as one of the best he had seen for its size anywhere.

PLANT INSPECTED

Shareholders had an opportunity when a truck load of wheat was cleaned. The cleaning operation was in charge of Wilson Spragge, the plant manager, assisted by M. Campo, assistant operator.

Chairman was James Jarvis, vice-president of the association.

Secretary-treasurer, E. W. Stutchbury, announced the untimely death of the chairman of the board J. A. (Fred) Casavant, and a two minute silence was observed in his memory.

Women to Help Memorial Hall

SEDGEWICK, Nov. 5 — Thirty women attended a meeting of the Sedgewick Women's Institute to hear a talk and see a display on handicrafts by Mrs. Sylvia Muckleston, formerly of the Sedgewick school staff, now teaching in Strome. The meeting approved a grant of $500 to the memorial hall, and decided to send Christmas parcels to Britain to the value of approximately $25. Meeting was held at the home of Mrs. A. Carmichael.

Mexico Trade Relation Seen

VERMILION, Nov. 5—It would be easy for Canada to develop a profitable relationship with Mexico, believes D. A. Andrew, secretary of the Dominion Hereford Breeders' Association, who is visiting Vermilion district.

Formerly on staff of the Vermilion School of Agriculture, Mr. Andrew returned recently from a trip to Mexico and at a luncheon tendered by friends he described the trip.

Mr. Andrew attended Mike Illchuck's sale of Herefords and a sale at A. Mitchell's farm south of Lloydminster.

William Bathgate, Frank Uchytil Maurice Fonteyne, Seab Perry, Al Arner, executive committee.

Camera Helps Cadets

DRUMHELLER, Nov. 5 — Instructors of the Drumheller Sea Cadet Corps will be assisted in their work in future by a camera. John Brenton, officer commanding, said that a 35 mm projection machine had been obtained from the Navy League of Canada for use on the ship Furious.

DIDSBURY GETS FISH

DIDSBURY, Nov. 5 — Restocking of streams in Didsbury area is proving successful, the Fish and Game Association members were informed at a meeting in the Lions' hall, with reports showing 1,600 eastern brook trout placed in Fallen Timber creek; 1,200 in beaver dams on the Hosegood property; 1,100 in Lowrie creek and several hundred in streams around Sundre.

Sedgewick Board Busy

SEDGEWICK, Nov. 5 — Meeting of the board of trade was informed $5,000 had been raised toward building of a memorial hall, and that support for this project is steadily increasing. Teams are canvassing both businesses, village and rural homes.

Other topics discussed included efforts that are being made to secure a blacksmith at this centre, safe milk supply for the village, possibility of the Sedgewick village co-operating with Flagstaff municipality for a municipal doctor, and the steps that must be taken to retain the services of the present veterinarian, Dr. Urban. L. Williams, district agriculturalist, promised his assistance in this respect.

Strong Quake In California

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Nov. 5—(AP)—A strong earthquake yesterday shook San Diego and rocked 10,000 square miles of southern California at 2:43 p.m. CST.

Sharpest quake in eight years, it jarred buildings here with a powerful upthrust motion followed by a north-south movement.

The tremor was felt lightly in Los Angeles, Long Beach, Riverside, Santa Ana and there was a clear shock in El Centro, on the San Andreas fault where heavy quakes have occurred before.

The quake was felt slightly at San Bernardino, but not at nearby Arrowhead Springs, which is almost directly atop the state's greatest earthquake fault, San Andreas.

Father Leaves Three Children On Doorstep

MONTREAL, Nov. 5—(BUP)—Montreal police searched today for a man who abandoned three children on the verandah of a private house.

Mrs. B. Gagnon told investigating officers the man rang her doorbell late Thursday night and wished her "Good evening, madame." He then ran to a truck and drove away.

The children were lodged at Youville Foundling Home and cared for temporarily by Roman Catholice nuns.

The nuns said the eldest identified herself as Jacqueline Wells, 4, and said the others were her sister Henriette, 2½, and brother Jean-Guy, aged one.

Youth Gets 10 Years As Charge Reduced

WINDSOR, Ont., Nov. 5—(BUP)—Harvey Southerby, 20, was sentenced to 10 years in the penitentiary yesterday for manslaughter in the slaying of Leslie Hern, railroade worker, July 27.

An Assize Court jury reduced the murder charge against the youth to manslaughter, when Southerby pleaded self-defence and claimed Hern made improper advances toward him.

VERMILION, Nov. 5—Vermilion town council had a census taken during October, and the figures released give a population of 2,016

Coyote Poison Plans Considered

DRUMHELLER, Nov. 5—A new type of coyote poison being used in the United States and considered by governments for the prairies will be discussed by Verdant Valley FUA group at a meeting Nov. 9 in Rivingston school.

Farmers here were interested in the recent coyote drive held at Olds as a means of cutting down the predators. So far, however, no plans have been made to wage war on a wholesale manner against the coyotes.

CAMROSE, Nov. 5—A drive for funds for the Canadian Institute for the Blind is nearly completed with $1,301 reported to date. The amount is about $70 less than last year. Quota was $2,000.

Time Out

By Dick Beddoes

THE MURKY CRYSTAL

Professional forecasters are sweating copiously today, attempting to pick a winner in the Western Conference football final which opens this afternoon between Calgary Stampeders and Regina Rough Riders.

How are you going to call a winner?

Most of the seers know who ought to win, i.e., Calgary. But this final shapes up like a mysterious piece of merchandise in many ways, causing the selectors to run around in circles like a bird dog with cotton up his nose.

The movements of Mr. Annis Stukus are representative of the trend. Mr. Stukus is not a professional forecaster in the strictest sense of the term, mind you.

That is to say, nobody has offered him anything for his selections in a long time. But he goes on record just the same, so often, in fact, that there are tea leaves hanging from his ears.

STUKUS REPRESENTS TREND

[illegible] arranged chronogically:

1. Says Roughriders are a bunch of bums, who will never know what hit them after Stampeders get finished mopping up.

2. Says that while Roughriders are a bunch of bums, who will never know what hit them after Stampeders get through with them, Stampeders aren't as hungry as they were last year, and not in such good shape.

3. Says that Stampeders are not in such good shape as they were last year, and they may not be able to beat a bunch of bums like Roughriders.

You can sum up Mr. Stukus' feelings with the title of a song which was popular 20 years ago: "Whatever it is, I'm against it."

REGINA APPEARS SHARPER

I have an idea that Mr. Stukus and the other critics who have their doubts about Calgary are not working entirely by the book. In recent weeks Regina looked much sharper than the Stampeders, and [illegible] say this stuff is [illegible] for the [illegible] you find the critics falling for it every time.

Give them a look at a team which appears to have lost its edge and its timing, and they will rush off and rewrite their scripts. You hear it said that last year Calgary was a razor-sharp outfit in training, a red-and-white juggernaut that could, and would, make every play click.

Thus, say the experts, Stamps have lost the key to victory.

Well, I have never watched Stampeders train, but I have seen enough of them in six games this fall to know that they are capable of playing very good football for 60 minutes at a stretch.

And that's all they'll have to do to win today, and in the second game next Friday.

It is the opinion of the bureau that recent injuries will hurt Stampeders [illegible] With Pat [illegible] and Vern Graham out of action, and others like Rod Pantages suffering [illegible] easy to brand the extremely [illegible]

CALGARY CAN BE BEATEN

This sermon has suddenly turned autobiographical, which means I have skilfully worked myself into a hole. I've got to pick a winner, or forfeit my union card.

It is impossible to assay on paper the relative power of either club. But past performance indicates that Calgary has an exceptionally potent passing attack and a better-than-average offensive along the topsoil.

Regina has a ground attack which has gone unmatched in the west this year, but their thrusts in the air have only been mediocre at best.

Roughriders have made a real fight of it every time out against Calgary. And Stampeders can be beaten by these Regina characters, as evidenced by that 9-6 game they lost two weeks ago.

But your obedient servant dies hard. So make it Stampeders.

They might be beaten by a [illegible] in Regina today but will erase that margin and win the two-game-total-points round back in Calgary on Armistice Day.

LA MOTTA GETS VILLEMAIN DECEMBER 9

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—(CP)—Jake La Motta, world middleweight champion, signed yesterday for a 10-round over-the-weight bout with Robert Villemain of Paris. The match is scheduled for Dec. 9 in Madison Square Garden.

La Motta was to have defended his title against Marcel Cerdan, also of Paris, in the Garden on Dec. 2. Cerdan was killed in a plane crash a week ago.

Villemain and La Motta met last March with the American winner in a widely-disputed verdict.

La Motta hasn't fought since he lifted Cerdan's middleweight crown at Detroit in June.

FOOTBALL AWARDSS don't always "come easy" as several hundred youthful gridders who received same at Recreation building last night can tell you. Flyers Go Back to Work As ACT 'Spiel Concludes

ANDY CLOVECHOK
. . . Will 'Have at' Caps.

Flyers will have a better appreciation of the ice handicap under which New York Rangers operate, after their experience of this week.

The Allan cup holders of two seasons back may pack 130,000-140,000 fans into the newly-named Gardens during the course of a Western Canada league campaign . . . but no matter.

They still had to vacate the icehouse for four days this week because of the Associated Canadian Travellers carspiel. Result coach Frank Currie hasn't had the squad on ice since Tuesday.

But to get back to the Rangers.

The Blue Shirts often vacate Madison Square Gardens for as long as two and three weeks, while Ice-Capades or some other attraction takes over.

MADE WAY FOR AUTRY

Rangers were forced to postpone their home opening two weeks this season, waiting for a rodeo, featuring Gene Autry to move on.

Flyers climb into their working togs again tomorrow morning, preparatory to a Monday night engagement in the Garden against Regina Caps. The Saskatchewan gang, reposing at the bottom of the league, has added up to a riches-to-rags story this season, considering they went to the Allan cup finals last spring.

However loss of Gus (The Great) [illegible] 'Chuck' McCullagh and one or two more from the team Art Somers steered to a national final a few months back proved a staggering blow.

To this point current editor of Caps hasn't recovered from the shock.

Nevertheless Flyers won't be [illegible] Coach Currie has a problem or two of his own to iron out, what with [illegible] and defenceman Eddie Cutts, doubtful starters against Caps because of injuries.

ANKLE INJURY
BATHGATE HAS

Bathgate has a gimpy ankle. How he got it no one knows. Back in the dressing room, following the visit of Saskatooon Quakers 10 days ago, the onetime Vancouver Canuck ace discovered the ankle was cracked up. But he wasn't able to pin the rap on any one Quaker, or any particular incident in the contest that saw Flyers triumph 5-2.

Daily treatments have been the order of things for 'The Cigar'.

A stubborn groin injury has converted Cutts into a question mark. Should the blond thumper not be able to start against Caps, Harvey (Pug) Young likely will get the assignment.

Currie stated yesterday that 'Handy Andy' Clovechok, high-scoring winger who has seen little service so far this season, will take out after Caps with the rest of his teammates.

LEWICKI SHOWS NOSE FROM NHL DOGHOUSE

TORONTO, Nov. 5.—(CP)—Transfer of Danny Lewicki from Stratford to Toronto Marlboros in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series was completed yesterday—first step in bringing the 18-year-old player back into the game.

O.H.A. secretary George Panter received release forms from Stratford and the association put its official okay on them.

Still hanging fire is the suspension clamped on Lewicki Oct. 6 by the National Hockey league and Canadian Amateur Hockey association for failure to comply with terms of the N.H.L.'s C form.

Transfer to Marlboros, amateur farm club of Toronto Maple Leafs of the N.H.L., which holds Lewicki's C form, paved the way for reinstatement.

LIKES CALGARY OVER REGINA

Murky Crystal Plagues Casual Choices' Tout

Edmonton's leading football tout—the guy who selects weekly winners in gridiron games being played across the nation for the Bulletin's Casual Choices, Inc.—had a headache and a hangover last night.

They were the natural consequences of having consumed too much [illegible] week's selections.

For it's getting tougher all the time to gaze into the murky crystal and come up with a vernal vision of the day-after-tomorrow's sports pages.

There are reasons for this. Sun spots are playing leap frog this week with flying fish who have just arrived from the Tropic of Capricorn, and the planet Venus is reported by astrologists to be flirting unabashed with pesky little Mercury.

All this eruption in the heavens is playing hob with the zodiac, not to mention giving the Bulletin punter a bad time.

But the only sign that the little man was losing his grip came at an early hour this morning when the sports editor asked him who would win the Western Conference championship.

The BCC expert looked up from his chart, which would baffle an Einstein that is infinitely more complex than that draw system Gordon Habkirk worked out for the ACT bonspiel, and said hoarsely:

"It won't be Winnipeg Blue Bombers or Edmonton Eskimos."

[illegible] closed shop for the week, his choices looked like this:

WESTERN JUNIOR SEMI-FINALS

Vancouver Blue Bombers over Edmonton Maple Leafs; Saskatoon Hilltops over Winnipeg Westons.

ALBERTA HIGH SCHOOL FINAL

Edmonton Seonas over Calgary Westerns.

BIG FOUR

Ottawa Rough Riders over Hamilton Wildcats; Montreal Alouettes over Toronto Argonauts.

ONTARIO UNION

Sarnia Imperials over Windsor Rockets; Hamilton Tigers over Toronto Balmy Beaches.

Johnson In Final Of ACT Carspiel

Winnipeg Skip To Battle Winner Hodgins-D'Amour

SECTION A

SECTION B

	W	L
D'Amour	4	1
Hodgins	4	1
LeBeau	3	2
Campbell	2	3
Franklin	1	4
Mowbray	1	4

Before this carspiel ever got underway they said he "wouldn't scare easy."

And today Leo Johnson, ace Winnipeg shotmaker, is just two winning efforts away from carrying off the automobiles at the Associated Canadian Travellers' spiel that winds up at the Gardens today.

Johnson continued unbeaten through three more 'round-robin' tests yesterday to win clear title to Section "A" honors and a spot in the final against the winner of Section "B".

[illegible]

In fact as the curtain came down last night there was no separating Larry Hodgins, Edmonton, and Theo (Frenchy) D'Amour. Each had four wins and one loss to top their section. They were scheduled to meet this morning in sudden-death fashion to declare an opponent for Johnson in the two-out-of-three wind-up.

Tragic figures in play at the Gardens last night were the young men who comprise the Jack LeBeau rink from the University of Alberta.

THEY 'BLEW'

With LeBeau playing third and Matt Baldwin throwing skip's rocks the students had D'Amour one down coming home, in what had been a gripping duel. Then the pressure proved too much for them. They blew sky high at the 12th and D'Amour, a former Canadian champion who has been curling in fine fashion all through the 'spiel, was quick to take advantage. He easily scored the two he required to edge out a 10-9 win.

Johnson clashed with Art Simpson, Bassano, in the playoff game in Section 'A'. Both rinks swung into action unbeaten in four starts since the round robin play got underway. At the finish, with Johnson a 14-8 winner, a big five, counted by the victor at the sixth end, loomed large.

In the meantime Larry Hodgins, a comparative newcomer to the ranks of 'big-time' skips, was thumping Franklin of Rosetown by a 12-7 score to guarantee for himself a spot in any playoff in Section B.

PLAYED AT GRANITE

The Franklin-Hodgins encounter, unlike the Johnson-Simpson, Le[illegible] D'Amour [illegible] was played at the Granite. Once completed winner Hodgins sat back to await the verdict in the D'Amour-LeBeau contest.

So it's Edmonton, Trail and Winnipeg rinks still in the running for the first-prize automobiles.

Once Hodgins and D'Amour settle supremacy in Section 'B', a start will be made on the best-of-three final. Games in this are set for 12:00 noon, 3:00 and 6:00 p.m., the latter providing the wind-up goes three games.

No longer concerned with top honors in the 'spiel a pair of rinks that cut a wide swath for a time, those of Garnet Campbell, Avonlea, and Walt Polski, Virginia, Minn., will meet today in the final of the No. 1 Event.

As well finals will be played in the No. 2 and No. 3 events, as well as the ACT Special, as it's known. This amounts to a consolation event.

'Oil Capital' Leafs Raid Bomber Lair

By Hugh Watson
Bulletin Staff Writer

VANCOUVER, Nov. 5.—This thriving coast city is just like any other city at 7.30 in the morning. Everybody's sleepy. But at least Vancouver knows Edmonton Maple Leafs have arrived.

Twenty nine players and four team officials stepped off the train this morning, scaring three porters and a stationmaster. We (I was forced into it) were wearing plastic oil helmets donated by Edmonton Chamber of Commerce and three oil companies. We looked like walking billboards, advertising Edmonton as the "Oil Capital of the World."

Vancouver, as you may have gathered, had been alerted. For what it's hard to tell. Leafs down 39 points after the first game of the Western Canada junior football semi-finals, certainly didn't impress Ranji Mattu's Blue Bombers.

HAVE FOUND KEY?

But according to the Leaf braintrust, Bombers aren't going to find them as brittle as the last time. Line coach Bart Gibb says he may have a solution to Bombers' devastating ground attack.

"We didn't know until the game was nearly over," said Gibb, "But Bombers had their tackles playing back a yard further than usual."

Bombers varied their defence with a four-man front line and a five man secondary. The shift gives them added blocking on passes.

Charge Pucksters Use Deadly Weapons

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—Since Chicago police seem to be reading the National Hockey league reports so literally, maybe the sportswriters should start a movement to soft-peddle on the synonyms.

Words like "[illegible]" "[illegible]" and "drilled" fit easily into the hockey fans' vocabulary to explain the action of propelling a rubber disc with a hockey stick. But think of their effect in a city that still remembers the meaning Al Capone's crew gave them.

So, what do you think, fellows? Is it worth foregoing a synonym to stop those Chicago cops calling hockey sticks "deadly weapons."

That's what Chicago fan George Grdich accused Kenny Reardon and Leo Gravelle of assaulting him with in that Wednesday night Chicago Black Hawks' charivaree with Montreal Canadiens.

Later Grdich said: "I'm not mad at anybody."

But those assault-with-deadly-weapon charges are still on the Chicago police blotter for Reardon and Gravelle to answer Nov. 14, when Canadiens go back to Chicago.

As an aftermath of the Chicago rumpus, NHL President Clarence Campbell yesterday warned fans to stay off the ice unless they wish to get hurt.

During the Chicago row, at least one fan was reported to have rushed on to the slippery surface to chase some Canadiens.

Tonight Detroit Red Wings and Toronto, tied for first place, battle it out in Toronto, while Boston plays the third-place Canadiens at Montreal. Toronto tackles the fourth-place Hawks in Chicago Sunday night, while the fifth-place New York Rangers play at Detroit.

Upcoming: One Hot and Heavy Session

You can wager as many as five zlotys the upcoming confab fated to include Annis Stukus in, or exclude him out, as Eskimo football coach in 1950, will be no place for Hildegarde.

In fact it's almost a certainty the six-ounce gloves will be pressed into service.

Confab will, it's understood on good authority, be held in time to issue a white paper by the middle of the month. The document should make highly interesting reading.

It's no secret the executive behind the Edmonton entry in the Western Conference is a house divided when it comes to the question of going along with Stukus, or graduating him forthwith to seek a post elsewhere.

Actually there never was agreement, all down the line. From the time president Murray Montague and the members of his executive voted Stukus in for the past season, over the panting form of ex-Chicago Bear Ray Nolting, two factions have existed.

Now they're about to have it out.

One Side Will be Armed With Hammers

The anti-Stukus faction is gunning for him, principally because they don't think he got the best out of the U.S. imports, particularly "Chuck" Fenenboch.

What's more they maintain the Toronto-raised grid mentor has a blind spot when it comes to the boys who learned their football know-how on the other side of the line.

They'll tell you that because Bill Stukus' big brother played with Argos in the days when the all-Canadian Torontonians were Grey cup holders, despite inclusion in the line-ups of most of their opponents of U.S. imports, he hasn't a proper appreciation of the crying need for Americans in the now T-formation dominated game.

The "get-Stukus" faction has it in for him on other scores, too.

They feel he didn't do as good a job of "selling football" as he had bargained for. They question that he's a "T" coach. They are resentful of his continued use of brother Bill as starting quarterback, to the exclusion of the highly publicized Fenenboch.

So it goes. On and on.

By the hour.

Stukus for Coach—Again!

The men on the other side of the fence see Stukus in a different light.

First off they point to his record as a first year coach in the fast Western Conference. Eskimos won four games in 14 tries, while beating out Winnipeg Blue Bombers for third place, behind Calgary and Regina. If he didn't "sell" football it was because he was too busy.

As for the American angle, all they ask for Stukus is U.S. imports of the calibre of those who have made such powerhouses of the Calgary and Regina squads.

The Bill Stukus-over-Fenenboch issue is dismissed with the reminder that Stukus played mighty fine ball, especially in the latter stages.

They may or may not have the answer to the charge that Annis Stukus is no ball of fire as an exponent of the "T" formation. His critics won't be forgetting that he made the switch back to the single wing for the last few games.

This, then, is the kind of linen that will be dragged out of the locker-room when the boys get together in a few days.

In the end Stukus will stay on. But the adjectives will fall where they may for an hour or two.

Link Groom, Tipster With Crooked Race

SALEM, N.J., Nov. 5-(AP)—An unemployed groom was arrested here and a racing sheet operator was taken into custody in Los Angeles yesterday in connection with an apparent attempt to fix a horse race at Rockingham Park Oct. 24.

William K. Weaver, Nogales, Ariz., pleaded innocent here in Municipal Court to breaking and entering on eight counts of maliciously interfering with race horses. He was held on $12,000 for the April term of the Rockingham County Superior court.

About the same time, Los Angeles police, at the request of New Hampshire authorities, arrested Forest C. (Chub) Wilson on charges of aiding and abetting in malicious tampering and interfering with race horses at Rockingham on that same date.

WIRE-TAPPING?

In Los Angeles, authorities said New Hampshire police traced a series of calls from Weaver to Wilson.

"Our information is that a betting coup was set up for certain Los Angeles interests," said detective Dan Gilmore. "Wilson denies, however, that he was involved in any way with any such coup. He admits talking to Weaver but says Weaver merely tried to interest him in some horses."

Rockingham officials said Weaver admitted Wilson promised to make a $100 bet for him on Crisis, winner of the race allegedly tampered with, but failed to do so. Crisis paid $13.60 and Weaver, almost penniless when arrested, stood to win $680.

'SPONGED' HORSES

Police charge Weaver broke into stalls Oct. 23 and 'sponged' six of nine horses entered in the seventh race the following day. Sponges were pushed into the horses' nostrils to hamper their breathing.

Weaver was sent to Derry jail after being unable to raise bail. Police said that Crisis had been the horse picked to win in the plot—and did win. Roadrunner, one of the other two horses untouched, was second.

Big Four Executives Settle Al's

MONTREAL, Nov. 4.—(CP)—President Leo Dandurand of Montreal Allouettes said last night "we will just have to take it" and accept the edict of the Interprovincial Football Union executive.

Executive ordered Alouettes to meet Ottawa Rough Riders at 2 p.m. in Montreal next Wednesday in the first of a two-game total-point series in the league playoff.

"We are being forced to play under duress," said Dandurand. "But there is nothing else we can do. We must take into consideration that part of our following who will be able to see an afternoon game and we must also consider our players. They have a chance to progress towards the Grey Cup game."

For a week Alouettes and Rough Riders were at loggerheads over dates and times. Ottawa refused to accept a Wednesday night game, arrangements for which had been started by Alouettes. Suggestions of other dates—both games in the day time—were not acceptable to Ottawa.

Big Four union's executive finally stepped in and early yesterday announced the decision—first game in Montreal Wednesday afternoon, second following Saturday in Ottawa.

Pats Whip Mortons; Starlites Go Boom

Pats made it three wins in as many starts by knocking off Mortons 37-20 in second game of a Ladies Senior Basketball twin-bill, played at Athabasca gym last night.

The lid-lifter saw Varsity Pandas take sole charge of second place, behind the fast-travelling Pats, when they whipped Starlites 40-28.

Cellar-dwelling Starlites hung like leeches through a first quarter almost devoid of scoring. Pandas had a 3-2 lead at this time. However the co-eds began to draw away to start the second quarter and had built up a 21-15 edge at the half.

After the changeover Pandas easily held Starlites safe.

Dorothy Allen sparked Pats to their convincing win over Mortons. She clicked for nine points to lead scorers of both teams. Third quarter proved the turning point, as the eventual winners outscored their opponents 11-3 to make it 25-13 going into the final stanza.

Mortons just coudn't do anything about it after that.

Kay MacBeth, with seven points, topped Mortons' point getters.

Dame and Ponce de Leon Lead Stamps to 5-2 Win

REGINA, Nov. 5.—(CP)—League-leading Calgary Stampeders last night defeated last-place Regina Capitals, 5-2, in a Western Canada Hockey league game.

Win increases the rejuvenated Calgary squad's lead over the second-place Edmonton Flyers to three points, and puts them five points up on third-place Saskatoon Quakers. Capitals, last year's league champions, trail with four points.

Bunny Dame, veteran Stamp leftwinger, led the Calgary scoring parade with two goals and an assist. Centre Butch McDonald assisted on Dame's pair and garnered one of his own.

McDOUGALL FINALLY CLICKS

Ab McDougall, Regina's flashy right winger, poked in both Caps' tallies, one in the first and one in the second period.

Johnny Milliard, and rookie Sid Finney accounted for the final Calgary markers.

Game was a see-saw affair, with teams alternating their scoring raids in the first two periods. They ran neck and neck at the end of the first, with McDonald scoring for Calgary and McDougall for Regina.

Calgary forged ahead on Dame's tally early in the second, only to have McDougall roar back with his second goal. Dame's pretty play with McDonald and Roy Heximer gave Stamps a 3-2 edge at the end of the period.

Regina lacked finish around the net, and the close-checking Stamps bottled up their attacking plays. They seemed unable to organize a full-scale offensive.

EASY ON DERTELL

Crowd of 3,900 saw the home team start short-handed in the third, and unable to get a clear shot on Russ Dertell in the Calgary nets.

Milliard got a stick on Stan Devicq's pass at the half-mark, and slipped the puck past Barefoot, who was partially screened.

From then on the pace began to tell and the action slowed down.

Barefoot held his own until Lou Hauck went off for cross-checking. Stamps were short defenceman Hugh Coflin, serving time for tripping, when Finney took Julian Sawchuck's pass and beat the Regina netminder with about four minutes to go.

From then on the tiring Caps proved no threat.

SLAMMIN' SAM WINS NORTH-SOUTH OPEN

PINEHURST, N.C., Nov. 5.-(AP)—Sammy Snead had his putter working yesterday along with his famed long game and romped in a six-stroke winner of the North and South open golf tournament with a rousing 70-66 finish for 274—14 strokes under par.

In taking the $1,500 first money in this $7,500 event, the P.G.A. champion from White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., ended up only three strokes off the tournament record set by Ben Hogan seven years ago.

Johnny Bulla, Pittsburgh, who was second to Snead throughout each of the first three rounds, hung on to finish in the runner-up slot with a 70-71 for 280, and settled for $1,000 second money.

Cary Middlecoff, U.S. open champ, 283, was third.

High School Finale At Clarke Stadium

Pre-season dopesters didn't give Calgary Westerns much chance to win high school football honors in the southern city this fall.

But the greatly under-rated Western gridders rolled merrily along, knocking over apple-carts in great style, finally winning the championship by belting Crescent Heights 23-0.

This afternoon at 2:30, the Westerns toe the turf at Clarke Stadium against Edmonton Sconas for the Alberta title. Scona, under the direction of coach Bill McIntyre, had an unbeaten and untied season locally, winning six straight games.

The south siders are recognized as one of the heftiest clubs ever to represent the north in the provincial final. Sparked by lineman Larry Hodgson, Orest Stogryn and more holdovers from last year's city finalists, the Scona gang are confident they can bring the title to Edmonton.

In the 1948 wind-up, St. Joe's, northern standard-bearers, took an unmerciful 33-3 shellacking from Calgary's St. Mary's.

Immediately following the senior game, St. Joe's and Scona will hook up in a duel to decide who will oppose Vic for the Edmonton junior high school championship. Vic will play the winners of this game at South Side Athletic Grounds Monday at 3 p.m.

WESTLOCK PAYS HONOR BALL CHAMPS

WESTLOCK, Nov. 5—Westlock Board of Trade staged a banquet here last night to honor the Westlock baseball team, provincial Senior "B" champions in the past season.

More than 200 local and district sportsmen were in attendance, including Doug McKenzie and Julian Berezuik, Edmonton executives of the Northern Alberta Baseball association.

Mr. McKenzie presented the Motor Car Supply trophy to "Wick" Crone, president of of the victorious Westlock team.

Cadomin and Leduc teams fell before Westlock in the northern Alberta playdowns, with Drumheller defaulting in the north-south final to give the Alberta crown to the locals.

Board of Trade president Wilson was master of ceremonies at the banquet.

DETROIT, Nov. 5—(AP)—Police commissioner Harry S. Toy said yesterday he may ask the Michigan Boxing commission to postpone the Lester Felton-Tony Pellone fight scheduled here Wednesday night.

Toy's statement highlighted another day of investigation by police into the Oct. 21 fight here in which Detroiter Felton won a decision over Kid Gavilan of Cuba.

"As long as the Gavilan-Felton fight is under investigation, I do not think it wise for Felton to fight again," Toy said. "It will take us at least another week to conclude our inquiry."

Fearless Fraley Uncovers Deceptive Notre Dame Line

By Oscar Fraley

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.-(UP)—Fearless Fraley's facts and figures:

Notre Dame has one of the most deceptive backfields in the nation but that line will give you a pretty good run for your money, too.

For instance the line was supposed to average 200 pounds as it came up to the Navy game last week. That was based on the promise that one of the tackles would weigh only 200 pounds—instead of the 235-pound Bob Toneff—and one guard would be 185 pounds instead of the 215 pound Paul Burns. Also, end Bill Wightkin was listed as weighing 198 instead of his actual 205.

They are only minor discrepan[illegible] . . .

EDMONTON BULLETIN

Phone 42111 EDMONTON, ALBERTA, SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1949

on the TOWN

By J. D.

Tidings out of the east of late disturb me mightily. They concern male clothing fashions next spring.

From what I can learn from the down-east tabloids your well-dressed male will be only less sensational than the atomic bomb. His clothing will be just as loud from all advance notices.

It seems that the crafty fashion designers have come up with a sort of Kinsey report on the dress habits of the North American male.

And like the Kinsey report, sex is at the bottom of the whole lurid scheme.

Research, it seems, proves that women are the motivating power behind men's wear.

Men only dress to please women, so the shrewd designers have taken a nation-wide poll to ascertain what the sweet things would love to see men look terribly ridiculous in come next pussy willow time.

The verdict of the fair sex has been enthusiastically cast in favor of color in the male attire.

DAYTIME NIGHTMARE

What we chumps will look like if we go for this male new look will be the crowning shame of all the ages since that regrettable fig leaf episode.

Yellow, parlor-pink, window blind green and even violet will give Canadian males a "gay look" according to the boys who are busy blue-printing this mad new sartorial era.

And what do you say to a nice snappy double-breasted suit in turqoise? Maroon will be conservative next spring, so the boys say.

Nobody has mentioned it yet so I'm going to go the whole hog and suggest a system of built-in neon lighting for evening wear.

But even if they don't have electric lighting some of those new casual wear suits are going to make lamps unnecessary in your closet after night.

IT CAN HAPPEN HERE

For instance, what would you say if you saw a pair of barber pole trousers headed for you on Jasper Avenue?

No, I'm not foolin'. There's that and worse on the master tailor drawing boards of the conservative east right now.

Just who is responsible for this whole mess is difficult to perceive and I can't quite believe the women are really to blame even if some of them tend to prove it's fashionable to be insane where clothes are concerned.

"Unusual clothes, for unusual times," is the slogan of the designers and I've a strong suspicion that these gentlemen are the real villains.

Don't say again "I've seen everything now" until you've cast your protruding optics on the new spring styles for men about six months from now.

Wonder how long it would take a guy to get used to being an Eskimo?

MAYOR SWEARS

Evil Conduct Is Eschewed For 2 Years

Edmonton demands it mayors honest—and aims to keep them that way.

When Sid Parsons took the official oath of office as mayor yesterday, he made sweeping commitments on his integrity and then, after kissing the Bible, signed the document to make it legal.

He swore he has not received—and will not receive—any payment or reward or promise thereof for exercising any partiality "malversation" or "undue execution of the said office" of mayor of this city.

Taking the full plunge, he swore "I have not by myself or partner, directly or indirectly, any interest in any contract with, or on behalf of the said city, save and except that arising out of my office as Mayor."

In other words, there will be no skullduggery.

Another Victim

Edmonton's polio total for 1949 rose to 27 yesterday when a four-year-old boy from the South Side was taken to hospital with the disease.

PROVINCIAL civil servants were urged by Hon. J. L. Robinson, minister of industries and labor, to participate 100 per cent in membership of the Civil Service Association of Alberta as he welcomed delegates to the 29th annual convention of the organization here yesterday.

Civil Servants Keep Labor Affiliations

Civil Service Association of Alberta will continue affiliation with organized labor.

Delegates to the association's 29th annual convention rejected by a large majority resolution to cease affiliation.

They also rejected resolution proposing membership plebiscite to determine opinion for or against labor affiliation.

The association is affiliated with the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada and congress organizations operating in Alberta.

Provincial government will be requested to institute the five-day 40-hour week in civil service, and also in institutions, jails, hospitals under provincial jurisdiction.

Membership in the organization is now 4,153, an increase of 358 during year. Objective of 5,000 members was set for next year.

Financial statement submitted by T. W. Whelan, general treasurer, showed surplus of $1,586.20 and an overall surplus of $15,599.49.

PAY RATES

Numerous resolutions dealing with rates of pay in certain departments of government, working conditions and job classifications were approved.

Resolution seeking identification badge or lapel badge for membership was rejected.

Association members contributed $27,870 to various organizations this year, and since inception of Civil Service Welfare fund in April, 1941, have donated $233,890 to welfare and charitable organizations.

The convention is continuing.

RETURNING to former charge next week for brief visit will be Rev. G. P. Gower, who was rector of Christ Church here from 1935 to 1941. Rev. Mr. Gower will speak at special anniversary services Sunday, as church marks beginning of its 41st year of service here.

Children's Skating Faces Suspension

Lack of attendance at meetings and a lessening of general activity by the Forest Heights Community League may cause suspension of skating for the community's children this season, President William P. Bullock said today.

Mr. Bullock has called a general meeting of league members for Monday at 8 p.m. in the community rink building at 81 street and 102 avenue.

The tachometer shows the pilot the exact number of revolutions per minute being made by his airplane engine.

New Board Faces Big Program

School Board Sees Largest Expansion In History Due

Biggest school building program in Edmonton's history is the responsibility of the city's newly elected public school board which took office last night.

Only new members of the board are J. K. W. Shortreed and John Thorogood, elected by acclamation in this week's civic elections.

School board chairman J. C. Macdonald told them during their term of office they would witness the city's biggest building race against the growing school population.

Report submitted by R. S. Sheppard, superintendent of schools, recommended the addition of at least 50 classrooms to the public school system.

Included in Mr. Sheppard's recommendations are: A four-room addition at Glenora, a two-room addition at Mill Creek, a four-room addition at Allendale, a four-room addition at Calder, a new eight-room elementary school in Victoria Place, an eight or 12-room elementary and junior high school in Glenora, and eight-room elementary school east of Rutherford, and a 12-room elementary and junior high in Strathcona Place.

START IN SEPTEMBER

Mr. Sheppard said construction of the new schools should start by September, 1950, and additions to existing schools should be completed by that date.

He recommended in addition a four or eight room addition at the Delton school, a Sept., 1950, start on the new East End high school; and the construction of a South Side high school with large shops in 1950 for completion by Sept., 1952.

Board moved to consider Mr. Sheppard's recommendations and take action on them at the next meetin.

Adby Construction Co. Ltd. was granted the contract for constructing seven portable single-room annexes at a cost of $54,484. Work will start immediately, the board was told.

OTHER BUSINESS

At its inaugural meeting the school board also:

Granted free use of a classroom in Sherbrooke school to Robertson Church for Sunday school purposes;

Decided to allow the University of Alberta Drama Club to use Westglen auditorium Dec. 5 to 10 for a drama presentation;

Donated $750 to the Edmonton School Boys' Band towards purchase of $3,000 worth of instruments;

Made available to the City Emergency Housing Bureau a Camp 550 building formerly used for school purposes;

Refused to allow Garneau school building to be used during the summer months by teachers marking departmental examination papers;

Filed report of Mr. Sheppard that 460 students are now enrolled in night classes at Victoria Composite high school.

FAITH, HOPE and Humanity is theme of painting which will be reproduced on entrance wall of new Canadian National Institute for the Blind building on Jasper avenue. Artist Janet Middleton won $50 award presented by National Council of Jewish Women for best "master" painting.

Christ Church Marks 40th Anniversary Here

Beginning of its 41st year of service to Edmonton will be marked Tuesday by the congregation of Christ Church of Edmonton.

Reception for members and friends of the church will be held Tuesday at 8:30 p.m. in the church hall.

Christ Church was opened Nov. 7, 1909, by the Bishop of Calgary after pioneer Edmontonians of the Church of England faith had pressed for creation of a new parish in west Edmonton.

The Parish was established April 1, 1909, and for a time meetings were held at "Westward Ho" school on 117 street.

Subsequently two lots were purchased at 116 street and 102 avenue and the first Christ Church was erected. An addition was built to the church later, and in 1921 the present church was opened on 102 avenue between 121 and 122 streets.

Parish hall and belfry were added at the site in 1925.

The interior of the present building is dignified by an antique prayer desk.

Pinnacles at the corners of the desk were found in the ruins of a cathedral in France during the First World War.

Square panels were donated to the church by a former rector, Canon Comyn Ching, who obtained them from Canterbury, England, following a cathedral fire there. The panels are of old black Kentish oak, and formed part of a choir screen believed carved by monks about 950 A.D.

City Artist Wins Award

Mural Will Appear On New CNIB Home

Three weeks is a long time to face a wall.

But pretty Janet Middleton is looking forward to it.

From now until Nov. 26 she will be hard at work reproducing her painting, "Faith, Hope and Humanity," on the entrance wall of the new building housing the Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

Janet won the $50 award offered by the National Council of Jewish Women for a mural model appropriate for the new building on Jasper avenue and 121 street.

Yesterday Mrs. I. Pedersky president of the council in Edmonton, handed Miss Middleton her cheque and a paint brush and told the young lady she had three weeks to finish the job.

Said Miss Middleton: "I just hope I can do it by then."

It will be the first mural for the young lady formerly from Vernon.

NO TROUBLE

But Janet Middleton shouldn't have much trouble. Her "master" painting, which was on exhibit at the institute building yesterday, shows a boldness of stroke and color.

It tells the story of the pioneer spirit which characterized the men and women who opened up the west.

Prairie schooners rumble down a hill across the rugged, wide open country as a group of men prepare to hitch up their team for another leg of the long trek.

HER INSPIRATION

Miss Middleton, who studied with Canadian watercolor artist W. J. Phillips at Banff, is teaching composition in watercolor and oils at the University of Alberta.

Miss Middleton said she received her inspiration for the painting from the slogan of the National Council of Jewish Women: "Faith, Hope and Humanity."

Judges who picked Miss Middleton's entry were Prof. H. G. Glyde, head of the art department at U of A, Murray MacDonald, superintendent of art for Edmonton's public schools, and Mrs G. A. Barnhouse, teacher at the Museum of Arts.

Greek Story Of Persephone Explains Coming Of Winter

Dear Tawasi

After the cold, wintry weather of the past month, we seem this week to have drifted back into autumn.

"Indian summer" is what we're having now.

Although the trees are leafless and the grass is brown and dead, it's the same sort of weather we usually get much earlier in the fall. It reminds you of the sunlit afternoons of September, when the air is hazy with smoke, and the Edmonton hills are red and yellow and brown with frost-colored leaves.

Beautiful, lazy weather it is.

Autumn is actually a very beautiful season, but traditionally in myth and in popular conception, it's been associated with the sadness and death which come after harvest.

GREEK LEGEND

Take the Greek legend of Persephone.

Persephone was the daughter of Zeus, chief of the gods, and of Demeter, the goddess of agriculture.

Do you remember how the young girl was carried off by the god of the underworld, Pluto, while she was gathering flowers?

He took her down to his gloomy kingdom of lost souls where there was no beauty or mirth.

And when her mother discovered Persephone was gone, she was overcome with grief. She allowed the flowers to wither and the leaves to fall from the trees for, as the goddess of living things, she also had the power to cause all growth to cease.

Eventually, however, Persephone was found by Demeter, who struck up a bargain with Pluto. Persephone was to spend six months with him in the underworld and six with her mother upon the earth.

NICE STORY

And that was the Greek explanation of summer and winter.

When Persephone returned in the spring, Demeter caused the grass and the flowers and the crops to grow. Then, with the coming of harvest, the girl went back to be the wife of Pluto; and the living things of the earth withered and died.

All ancient peoples marked the coming of winter in some manner. They had a particular reason for fearing it, too. Living under primitive conditions, they faced hunger and cold and misery during the months when the the sun lost its warmth, and the earth lay cold and dead.

We here in Canada would never think of dreading winter for those reasons.

However, we do like to enjoy warm, autumn weather for as long as we can.

So let's hope that our present Indian summer lasts awhile.

Sincerely

Jean Walker

Uncle Wiggily's Bedtime Story

By HOWARD R. GARIS

The Lady Mouse Teacher in Hollow Tree School was so interested in examining her new pupils that, for a moment, she did not pay much attention to Bunty. The orphan rabbit, looking from a side window when she heard some one knocking at the door, had exclaimed:

"Oh! Oh!"

But Miss Mouse had asked Bobbie the bob cat this examination question:

"If you had two saucers of milk, Bobbie, and gave Wolfie one, how many would you have left?"

Bobbie didn't answer. Miss Mouse said:

"If that examination question is too hard for you, Bobbie, I will ask you an easier question."

"Oh, no, Miss Mouse. That question isn't too hard. I can answer it but first I want—"

"Answer the question first please, Bobbie!" squeaked Miss Mouse.

Bobbie, take this piece of chalk and draw a picture of a dog."

"Oh, no, Miss Mouse, I couldn't do that."

"Why not, Bobbie?"

"Cause bob cats and other cats don't like dogs, Miss Mouse. Please excuse me from answering that question."

"Well, Bobbie, Bunty isn't a new pupil who comes to Hollow Tree School the first time. She has been a pupil here a long time. She isn't like you and Foxie and Wolfie."

"Oh, I don't want to ask Bunty an examination question," mewed Bobbie. "I just want to ask Bunty why she said 'OH! OH!' when she looked out of the window just now after somebody knocked at the door."

"Very well, Bunty, you may answer. Why did you say: 'OH! OH!'

"Because Uncle Wiggily is coming to visit our school," answered the orphan rabbit. "And I thought—perhaps—maybe—"

"Oh, I understand, Bunty. You thought perhaps Foxie, Wolfie and Bobbie the bob cat might forget that they were now kind and good and might turn wild and savage again. Is that it?"

"Yes'm, Miss Mouse."

"And perhaps jump on Uncle Wiggily?"

"Oh, no, we wouldn't ever do that again!" promised Wolfie. "I'll open the door for Uncle Wiggily." Which Wolfie did most politely and the rabbit gentleman hopped in twinkling his pink nose.

"So we have another visitor to our school," said Miss Mouse, "Welcome, Uncle Wiggily! We have three new pupils, Foxie, Wolfie and Bobbie. I am just giving them a little examination and—Oh, yes, what is it, Rufus?" she asked as the rat gentleman janitor came up from the cellar. "What is it, Rufus?" Then the janitor answered:

"There's another new pupil outside wanting to come in, Miss Mouse, but I don't believe you should let him." Suddenly the door opened. Oh, dear! I must stop until Monday. But I'll tell you more then.

Please enroll me in the Tawasi Club.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Rice Price Drop Has Timely Arrival

By Bea Thrifty

Old maxim about the silver lining in every cloud pulls through in some shape or other every time.

Lots of big black clouds of higher rents, coffee cut-ups, scandalous fruit juice prices are hovering over our weary little heads.

• • •

Now here's the silver lining . . . it's rice prices! Rice prices have undergone a major operation to remove 26 per cent of retail sale listing.

This means we'll be buying our rice at 3c and 4c less per pound than we have during the entire post-war period.

• • •

Myself is as happy as a clam about this.

With threatened potato shortages boosting spud prices high as the sky I've become very attached to rice.

It's a real pleaser as a vegetable and you know the scads of wonderful dessert tricks rice can be coaxed into performing.

• • •

Much ado about avocados has kept my mailman busy this past week. So right this very minute I'll toss you a fine recipe for avocado and grapefruit salad.

• • •

[illegible]

• • •

Now for the salad. Peel avocados and slice lengthwise. Marinate in French dressing one half hour. Place four slices alternately with three sections of grapefruit on crisp lettuce cup of endive.

Now serve with creamy mayonnaise or use fruit dressing.

[illegible]

• • •

[illegible]

• • •

"Though I'm mad as a hatter about the high-cost fruit juices I must admit there's a newie in the orange juice line that is a veritable gem.

Reason for true orange flavor and goodness can be pinned on fact that California Sunkist oranges are used . . . the sweet Valencias. It's a mite expensive, of course selling at 26c per tin.

A WORKING WIFE can help relieve financial pressure —a fair husband will salute her efforts and be helpful at home.

WHY GROW OLD

Working Wives' Mates See All Advantages

By Josephine Lowman

This article is written for husbands who have working wives. There are great benefits to be derived by the husband with a career wife, but there are also fair penalties involved.

In the first place, the husband does not have his nose quite so tightly pressed against the grindstone of financial pressure. In the second place, his wife is apt to remain attractive, well groomed, efficient and well informed.

She probably has to in order to keep her job! She also understands how he feels after a day in an office, as she could not otherwise understand. She has learned to slough off minor irritations and to organize.

I think the woman in the home, the one who has several small children and no help has the hardest job of all. However, her routine is somewhat flexible while the commitments in an office must be met daily, no matter how one feels. The woman in the home can lie down for ten minutes at a time when she feels the need.

Today many women are carrying the double load of running a home (often with children in it), and also adding to the family income. This is an insupportable situation unless the husband salutes her efforts as a career woman by helping at home. It is otherwise impossible for a woman to retain sanity, or at least health.

Such husbands want to "have their cake and eat it too." That didn't work very happily even in the good old days, much less today when men and women are more truly partners in marriage than ever before.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Meanness, Ill-Temper Result of Illness

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

It is amazing, at times, how blind parents can be about the children with whom they live. They put tags upon them, unaware that the child is entirely blameless for the person he is. This letter is an eye-opener and I am happy to print it.

"My children were eight and nine when my boy was born. They had never been any trouble but I found no advice that helped with him.

"He was beautiful and fat when he was born but in six weeks he had the most terrible cold and these so-called colds returned about every six weeks.

"As he grew, he became unfriendly and would scream when he came in contact with onyone outside the family. He slept badly. At 14-months he broke out with a terrible rash and in a few hours his arms and legs had swollen to twice their size.

"It was then we found that he was allergic to tomatoes and citrus fruits. This went on until he was [illegible] the spots breaking out, the periodic colds which we now know to be asthma and his temper [illegible] all the time.

"People told me he the worst and meanest child they ever seen. About a year ago he began to stutter and this time we took him to a doctor who gave him skin tests. We found he couldn't take corn which he had in the form of corn syrup when a baby. Nor oatmeal, which he ate every morning: or carrots, peas or chocolate and we had given the children chocolate milk for extra nourishment.

"We removed these offending foods and within a week he stopped stuttering. He began to improve and grow rosy. He got special cold shots. He still disliked strangers and was frantic with another child.

"Finally we took him to an eye, ear and nose doctor and we found the answer to everything. He was almost blind and nad been for his entire life. He could see shadows but mostly was guided by sound and feel.

"He was fitted with strong lenses and now, after eight months you would not know him.

BRIDGE

Convention Shows 2-Bid Responses

By William E. McKenney

This is the last of a series of six articles that I have taken from Fred L. Karpin's new book, Point-Count System of Bidding in Contract Bridge.

These articles have dealt with the new convention for showing aces and kings in response to an opening bid to two in a suit.

Mr. Karpin gives seven different responses to the opening two-bid in a suit.

1. With one ace bid the ace
2. With two kings bid three no trump
   (a) With three kings bid three no trump and then four no trump.
3. With two aces bid four no trump.
4. With an ace and two kings bid the ace first and then jump to four no trump.
   (a) With an ace-king of one suit and another king, jump in the ace-king suit first. Then bid four no trump.
5. With an ace in one suit and a king in another bid the ace first and then the king suit. If the king is in a suit bid by opener, jump when bidding the king.
6. If you have only one ace and it is in a rebiddable suit, bid the ace first and then rebid that suit.
7. Holding none of theabove bid two no trump.
   (a) With one king, first bid two no trump. Then you can bid the king suit if below game level.

Note how interestingly this hand works out. North has responded with two no trump and then has shown his king of spades by bidding three spades. South does not blindly rush into five diamonds. He can see that he has a losing spade, a club and a possible loser in hearts. But with North showing the king of spades and with East on the lead, South knows that a game in no trump is perfectly safe.

The Smartest Coats Have Butterfly Sleeves

If you've shopped around at all for winter coats, you must have noticed that the smartest have very new looking sleeves. These, cut in one with the body of the coat, are shaped by a center top seam and have a deep armhole.

I call them "butterfly"—a pretty name for a pretty sleeve. They are very comfortable and practical too, for the armhole is roomy enough to fit over suits and yet cut high enough under the arm to give you all the freedom of action you need.

Yes, the butterfly sleeve is like a fashion signature on the smartest coats this winter, whether you prefer one with or without fur.

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

FORT SASKATCHEWAN couple Ronald Smith and Francis May Knowles were wed in a recent ceremony at St. George's Anglican Church. Bride is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Knowles.

Frances May Knowles Weds Ronald Smith

FORT SASKATCHEWAN, Nov. 4—St. George's Anglican Church of Fort Saskatchewan was the scene of a very pretty service recently, when Miss Frances May Knowles became the bride of Mr. Ronald Birnie Smith.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Knowles of Fort Saskatchewan and the bridegroom the son of Mrs. Smith and the late A. de Herries Smith of Edmonton.

Ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. W. Buxton.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was beautiful in a white satin gown with full skirt entrained. The dress featured lily point sleeves, a lace yoke and a rounded neckline. Her illusion net veil, edged with deep lace was held in place by a wreath of white baby mums.

AMERICAN BEAUTIES

The bride carried a shower bouquet of American Beauty roses, white carnations and white baby mums. Her only jewellery was a cameo pendant, a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Eileen Wem of Edmonton, aunt of the bride, was maid of honor and dressed in a floor-length gown of bronze crepe and carried a bouquet of yellow baby mums.

The church was decorated for the service with yellow and bronze baby mums.

Best man was Elmer Sanders of Edmonton and the guests were ushered by Thomas Holt Jr. of Fort Saskatchewan.

The wedding music was played by Mrs. C. P. Brabbins.

Following the ceremony, a reception for over 80 guests was held in the Union Hall.

Mrs. Knowles, the bride's mother, receiving, wore a cocoa brown crepe dress with beaded trim and yellow roses en corsage and brown accessories. Mrs. Smith, mother of the bridegroom, chose a winter violet crepe dress with black accessories and pink roses en corsage.

TRIPLE-TIERED CAKE

The three-tiered wedding cake was surrounded by white tulle and flanked by tall cream tapers. The hall was tastefully decorated with white, green and rust streamers and white wedding bells.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Douglas Anderson of Edmonton and Fred Johns of Leduc acted as master of ceremonies.

THE "CHERRYVALE"—[illegible] facilities plus a charming dinette. The living room is unusually spacious. A suggested treatment of the walls is "Amerwood." This is a sound knotty pine shot blasted which produces a most interesting surface. This comes in several colours which are warm and pleasing. The front wall features a picture window flanked by a window garden illuminated with concealed Lumiline lights. The Cherryvale is designed in the Colonial manner with modern features. It presents a most practical solution to a complete home in the medium price range. This is another in the Bulletin series of interesting homes by Harold C. Beckett, architect, 52 Chatham St., W., Windsor, Ontario.

On The Farm

By Pat McVean

You don't need to read between these lines to know that the heyday of Canadian farm economy is over.

"There is no certainty that Canada's markets in Britain can be maintained" — Dominion Agriculture Minister Gardiner, in an interview.

"Devaluation of United Kingdom currency . . . will have the effect of [illegible] still further [illegible] Canadian grass and [illegible]." Report of Alberta Seed Growers' Cooperative.

"[illegible] Great Britain will have to ask for lower prices for Canadian farm products." Premier E. C. Manning in an interview.

"The loss of the British market [illegible] economic disaster to rural Canada . . . and could precipitate another nation-wide depression across the whole Dominion."—J. R. Love in "Co-op News."

* * *

It looks worse to see it all presented in one place, but it doesn't [illegible] the fact farmers are facing.

What [illegible] lessening [illegible] didn't do to Canadian agriculture in the past year, devaluation may [illegible].

A [illegible] farmers that "current trends do not indicate a very large increase in the aggregate of export and consumer demand for agriculture goods."

He called his shots right, according to subsequent reports of the export volume of Canadian farm products.

* * *

At the same time, the agriculture experts forecast that the domestic demand for agriculture products would likely be maintained through 1949, and prices of some products would increase.

Time has shown them generally right in that.

But what they didn't figure on was one of the worst growing seasons in Western Canada's recent history, and a consequent slash in farm income which couldn't be outweighed by better prices.

The optimists talked about the "big crop next year," and the pessimists pointed out that the current period corresponded to the years after First World War when agriculture prices after booming, hit a sudden slump.

* * *

And then Mr. Attlee made his [illegible] announcement. The effects were felt almost immediately in markets where products other than farm goods are traded.

But the punch—though it may take longer to strike Canadian farmers—is going to be just as hard.

As Canada's contracts to sell Great Britain farm products expire, it seems likely that they will be renewed only if Canadian farmers are willing to accept lower prices for their goods.

* * *

Otherwise Britain will obtain its food products in countries where trade deals on a barter system can be arranged.

It all adds up to the fact that Canadian agriculture seems to be entering that stage of the play, when the chips, as they say, are down.

It's a time for caution—a time for curbing expenditures, for cutting out needless spending, and for thinking about quality rather than quantity of farm goods produced.

One Capital to Another

By T. W. Van Dusen
Special From The Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, Nov. 5.—Cabinet this week was batting portfolios around like ping pong balls.

The game was being played behind closed doors and the result would be new faces in Prime Minister St. Laurent's cabinet next session.

While the green baize doors of the East Block effectively masked details, enough authentic information had leaked out to give an idea of next session's lineup in the Government front benches.

Most pressing item on the Cabinet agenda was a minister from Alberta to replace Jim MacKinnon, who will turn in his Cabinet uniform at the end of this session.

PRUDHAM LIKELY

To succeed him, MacKinnon has put the finger on George Prudham, Edmonton builder, who holds Senator MacKinnon's old riding of Edmonton West.

Despite some murmurings from three other new Alberta Liberal members, it looks as though Jim MacKinnon's choice will get the nod.

Scarcely less urgent was the matter of a minister from Toronto. With the big Liberal switch in the election, Toronto Liberal groups were more vocal than ever in demanding representation in Cabinet. All signs were that the government now was ready to see the light.

Logical choice, of course, was Dave Croll who has been doing the government's spadework in Toronto long enough and well enough to be entitled to preferment.

FORMER MAYOR

Croll, the former mayor of Windsor who went overseas in the Second World War as a private and was discharged with the rank of colonel, should have got a cabinet job long ago, except that, for some reason, Mackenzie King never could see him as ministerial timber.

Whether or not Louis St. Laurent was taking the same attitude, Croll now had substantial cabinet backing in favor of his candidacy.

One of the reports going around was that he would get Veterans' Affair, with Milton Gregg going to defence. The reports didn't make clear what would happen to Brooke Claxton.

The Chateau, sessional home of Members of Parliament and Senators, and temporary living quarters of newly-arrived diplomats, prides itself on the restrained and decorous atmosphere of its Jasper Room cocktail lounge.

Jasper Room waiters—who look more like ambassadors than ambassadors do—got a rude shock when an Edmonton girl ordered a spot of "red-eye."

SOMETHING NEW

Red-eye, a dignified garcon admitted sheepishly, was completely outside his experience.

The young lady firmly explained that red-eye, as it is now drunk in the West, was a mixture of beer and tomato juice.

After a full-dress conference with the maitre de hotel, the garcon got permission to bring the ingredients, but the young lady had to mix them herself.

While the Jasper Room's dignified staff looked on in amazement, the Edmonton girl happily downed the mixture.

Health Minister Martin, whose department in September spent some $18,000,000 in family allowances, was doing a little economizing of his own this week.

At the door of an Ottawa church Sunday, Mr. Martin dropped a dime in the collection plate for his seat.

Overhead, a sign read: "All seats, 25 cents."

Naval Brass To Leave Desks For Duty Area

OTTAWA, Nov. 5.—(CP)—An accelerated system of shifting high naval brass from desk-bound jobs in Ottawa to coastal and sea duty is contemplated by naval headquarters.

It seems from a recommendation by a three-man commission which investigated naval conditions that more officers receive sea duty and naval training and their desk jobs be taken over by civil servants.

STUDENT DAD

Mom Is Happy Triplets Given Outside Help

VANCOUVER, Nov. 5—(CP)—A mother of twins yesterday sent $10 to a hard-pressed mother of triplets with this greeting:

"Three babies must be a heavenly feeling."

The donor is Mrs. Constance Neale. She sent the money to Mrs. Raleigh Martin who Friday gave birth to the first triplets in Vancouver in 13 years.

But the Martins are having a tough time. Mr. Martin, a former United States marine, is attending University of British Columbia on $100 a month under the GI Bill of Rights.

The $10 from Mrs. Neale will help a lot, said the proud but hard-pressed Martins.

Alcohol Study In School Urged

WINNIPEG, Nov. 5 — (C P) — Canadian school children should receive "alcohol education," Charles M. Neaves, general secretary of the Manitoba Temperance Alliance, told delegates at the alliance's annual convention.

"British Columbia is the only province in Canada with an educational program and I would like to see it in every province in the dominion," he said.

Mr. Neaves said that consumption of alcoholic beverages is reaching a lower age than ever before.

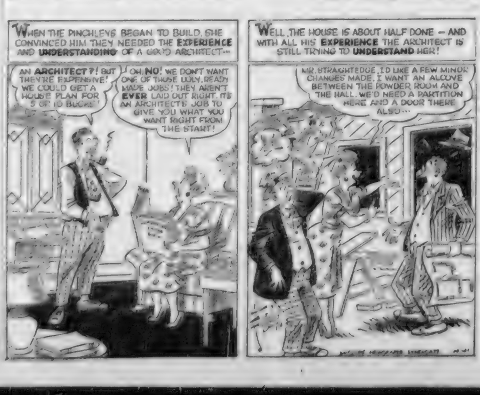
THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW— By Fagaly and Shorten



WHEN THE PINCHLEYS BEGAN TO BUILD, SHE CONVINCED HIM THEY NEEDED THE EXPERIENCE AND UNDERSTANDING OF A GOOD ARCHITECT—

WELL, THE HOUSE IS ABOUT HALF DONE — AND WITH ALL HIS EXPERIENCE THE ARCHITECT IS STILL TRYING TO UNDERSTAND HER!
MR. STRAIGHTEDGE, I'D LIKE A FEW MINOR CHANGES MADE. I WANT AN ALCOVE BETWEEN THE POWDER ROOM AND THE HALL. WE'D NEED A PARTITION HERE AND A DOOR THERE ALSO…

Tax Exemption To Cover Drugs Asked in House

OTTAWA, Nov. 5—(CP)—The government was asked yesterday to change income tax laws so that increased exemption could be claimed by people buying necessary medical drugs while not under direct care of a doctor or hospital.

Owen Jones (CCF—Yale) cited a case of a person who used $60 worth of drugs a month. As long as this person received the drugs from a doctor, the cost could be claimed as income-tax exemption. However, if the drugs were bought directly from the producer, the user could claim no exemption.

Injured was Terry Pepin of 9914 112 street. He was struck by a car driven by George Bell, 9645 107A avenue.

Bell told police the child ran in front of his car as he was driving west on 99 avenue between 110 and 111 streets.

The tot was taken to Misericordia hospital by the driver where he was found to be suffering a bruised forehead and thigh.

Election Scandal Hint In Flour Report Delay

By Norman M. Macleod

OTTAWA, Nov. 5.—(BUP)—The price of bread and a dizzy rise in rents threatened today to throw parliament into a dramatic uproar.

Justice Minister Stuart Garson was reported working on a statement to give parliament Monday answering a charge laid against the administration by F. A. McGregor who resigned as a federal anti-combine commissioner. McGregor asserted that the government played politics with the commission's work.

CONSPIRACY CHARGED

He charged that throughout last spring and summer's election campaign the government sat on recommendations for prosecutions against bakers and millers in western Canada. The commissioners had reported that both industries conspired against the public to maintain prices of flour and bread.

Government sources said Garson intended to table the McGregor milling report at the opening of the Monday afternoon sitting of the commons. At the same time, he is expected to make a statement seeking to defend the report's suppression last winter and all through the election campaign.

Opposition Leader George Drew reportedly was considering a situation which gave him a chance to hit at the government. CCF members radiated pre-battle activity.

CAUSTIC RESIGNATION

It appeared also that the budget debate, which had been within a few minutes of closing Thursday night, would stretch for perhaps another week, with bitter protest against the 20-25 per cent rise in rents which Finance Minister D. C. Abbott suddenly has sanctioned.

The cost of bread issue centres around the sudden resignations of anti-combines commissioner McGregor and his deputy, I. M. MacKeigan.

McGregor formally attributed his resignation to the government's failure to act on two things. One was the report of special commissioner H. Carl Goldenberg in November last year. The report found that a combine existed in the bread-baking industry of Saskatchewan, Alberta, and British Columbia. The other was McGregor's own report of last December, which found that a further combination had existed among Canadian flour-milling companies.

SERIOUS CHARGES

The Goldenburg report was published by the government last December. The McGregor flour-milling report, known to be dated Dec. 29,1948, has never been published—despite provisions of anti-combine legislation, which stipulate that the report of any investigation must be made public within 15 days of its receipt by the justice minister unless the anti-combines commissioner certifies that its publication would not be in the public interest.

Opposition circles in parliament were reported today to be ready to launch serious charges in connection with suppression of the report on the milling industries. Informed sources said they would link its suppression to the fact that a general election campaign was in prospect, and that the milling industry was regarded as among the government's strongest supporters.

Gordon Gives An Explanation

OTTAWA, Nov. 5.—(CP)—Donald Gordon said today the flour-milling industry had been promised it would not be prosecuted under anti-combine legislation for price-fixing during the war. That was carried out under instructions from the Prices Board.

Mr. Gordon, wartime head of the Prices Board and newly-appointed president of the Canadian National Railways, told reporters: "I strongly objected to Mr. McGregor's recommendation that industries be prosecuted for doing the things they were told to do by me in wartime."

Mr. Gordon said he also had objected to the use of information gathered by the Prices Board as evidence in any prosecution under the Combines Investigation Act.

Too Old at 70, Jilted Man Sues Ex-Bride-To-Be

MONTREAL Nov. 5 — (CP) — Albert Piche, 70-year-old laborer said in court Thursday that Rolande Nadon, 33, agreed to marry him if he bought her mother's restaurant. But after paying out $4,187 of the $5,700 asking price "they suddenly discovered I was too old."

The business deal was called off and Piche got back $3,700 of the money he paid. Now he's suing for $487.

Piche's son Oscar testified he visited the two women and also received a marriage proposal. But the son, standing at an even five feet, was "thought too short."

How to advertise and sell honey will be the keypoint of an address to the Alberta Beekeepers' Association here on November 14.

The beemen are holding their 16th annual convention at the Masonic Temple here, Nov. 14 and 15.

The two-day session will wind up with a banquet and dance. Speaker at the final gathering will be C. A. Jamieson, dominion apiarist.

BOARD BANS YULE TREE

BEESTON, England, Nov. 5—(CP)—This Nottinghamshire town is angry at Whitehall. The board of trade won't issue an import permit for the town to have a community christmas tree.

Norway had offered to send one if Beeston obtained the permit. Whitehall said only one permit would be issued—for the annual tree in Trafalgar Square, London.

War Goods On U.S. Ban

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—(AP)—The United States government yesterday slapped rigid controls on shipment of strategic goods to any place in the world—except Canada—to prevent re-shipments to the Soviet bloc.

Communist China and Latin America particularly were covered by the new rules.

Officials told a reporter the step was taken more with the idea of averting future re-shipment difficulties than because of any great current traffic in re-shipments to Russian-dominated areas.

Hitherto the department has applied these rigid controls only to Europe and adjacent areas, mostly along the southern rim of the Mediterranean.

By strategic goods, the department means for the most part industrial items that might contribute to "war potential" of the Soviet.

Direct shipments of strategic items to the Soviet Union have been under virtual ban since March, 1948.

Livestock Claims Up

OTTAWA, Nov. 5.—(CP)—Increases in compensation paid by the federal government to farmers whose livestock is slaughtered because of disease are contained in a bill given first reading last night in the commons.

Major provision of the bill is for retroactive compensation to farmers whose cattle had to be destroyed completely as a result of tuberculosis. This compensation is retroactive to April 1, 1947.

Maximum compensation which can be paid to farmers for horses or cattle which must be slaughtered because of disease is unchanged. However, the compensation is increased for swine or sheep.

Formerly for both swine and sheep the maximum compensation was two-thirds of $50 for purebred animals and two-thirds of $15 for grade animals.

The bill provides maximum compensation of the full $50 for purebred swine and sheep. For grade swine compensation would be a maximum of $30 and for grade sheep and maximum of $20.

The compensation varies depending on the animal slaughtered.

West Pooh-Poohs Soviet Sedition Claim

By John B. McDermott

BERLIN, Nov. 5.—(BUP)—The British-licensed Berlin Telegraf claimed today that a large underground resistance movement exists inside the Russian army.

The despatch was based on alleged reports from Russian officers, one of them a major, who had fled to the west.

Western allied intelligence authorities discounted the telegraph reports.

"I am willing to go along with the fact that there is discontent in the Red army," said a high intelligence officer. "But resistance inside the Russian army is virtually impossible."

The telegraph said pamphlets have appeared periodically in Russian troop barracks urging all soldiers to oppose their Communist dictators.

Telegraph said the leaflets, written in Russian, call for "death to the tyrants" and "freedom for the workers."

The Underground Group behind the leaflets identify themselves as the "NTS", the telegraph said. This symbolizes their slogan of "death to tyrants."

Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR SUNDAY, NOV. 6, 1949.

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — Fine day all around, so you who must work or study are equally favored with those who have day free. All should attend church and enjoy leisure hours in a wholesome way; help others, too.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Mildly friendly in your immediate sector, but more generous influences prevail in general; you can and should have a happy, constructive day. Prayer, good reading, healthy fun are "musts."

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini) — Best planetary day so far this very encouraging month. Bright thoughts, unique ideas for entertainment; also church, charity matters favored. Thank God for blessings; enjoy family.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — Day promising for all worthy interests and endeavors and starts off this impelling month with fresh incentive. Remember God, your soul's needs and do enjoy some healthy recreation.

July 24 to August 22 (Leo) — Fine indications for necessary tasks, all important matters and, of course, religious services. Then, God's day dedicated to Him and you'll better enjoy all activities. Don't fret.

August 23 to September 23 (Virgo)—Writers, journalists, musicians, secretaries, and those in confidential positions highly favored under existing aspects. You could be entertaining, lend enjoyment and incentive to social affairs.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Mild, pleasant day. It can be exciting, too, if activities require efforts for charity, worthy social affairs, church and community interests. Necessary duties should bring new satisfaction.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—Especially favorable period for artistic professions, home, family interests. You personally can achieve unusual recognition from generous, unselfish effort. Pray, enjoy fun.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—Excellent indications for most worthy matters; grand planetary day if you are in trim. Exciting, benefic month. Pray now that you may be rightly ambitious, constructive.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn) — Less stimulating for you today, nevertheless a munificent and [illegible] period for good work and pleasant, healthy recreation. Remember spiritual needs. Romance rates.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—Join the happy ones. Diversify your day a bit. Necessary duties can be dispatched quickly for some wholesome fun with loved ones, worthy friends. First of all your church, prayer.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces) — Similar influences to Aquarius and Capricorn today; please heed [illegible] to them. You can catch up with correspondence, improve a talent or hobby. Do seek comfort in prayer.

You Born Today: Just, determined very capable, energetic and steadfast in purpose. Artistic temperament, could do exceptionally well in a scientific or professional field, as diplomat, organizer in big undertaking, perhaps as engineer, lawyer. This, of course, if you have rightly developed your inborn talents and capability and are using them constructively daily. Pray always for fortitude and patience, be tolerant with those less talented and don't balk at criticism or sound suggestions.

Birthdate: John Philip Sousa, noted composer and band conductor; Francis Lederer, actor.

FOR MONDAY, NOV. 7, 1949.

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — Take things in philosophical manner; deal to the point, don't hedge. In personal affairs be careful—especially dealing with opposite sex, elders.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus) — By well-placed effort, and disregarding hearsay, you can finish day with deserved credits. P.M. may present some slight contention. The practical Taurian will get by this okay.

May 21 or June 21 (Gemini)—Excellent aspects. Go along with sensible, independent air, assured of success from worthy effort. Your problems, if any, will likely come from lack of tact, speaking out of turn.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Usual sort of mild day with some mixed vibrations, especially during business hours. Watch for surprise competition making contracts, promoting your merchandise. And smile!

July 24 to August 22 (Leo)—Perhaps a little on dull side. Pep up, go after things early, make your breaks, if need be. Develop a fromula of action before putting it to work—thus avoid tendency toward haste, error.

August 23 to September 23 (Virgo)—Fine influences. Work, personal affairs should be pleasant, mostly profitable. Have assurance, do not work over-rigorously and count it a gain to hold worth-while friends.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Friendly rays that will make tasks much easier if you are tuned to advantages properly. Your own interpretations help; you'll no doubt be winning plaudits. Romance favored.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—Awaken your dormant talents and gain impetus as day unwinds; much can be accomplished now. Stars in auspicious position for intellectual and business matters.

PROVE BIG SUCCESS

Helicopters Now Aid Far North Prospectors

OTTAWA, Nov. 5.—(CP)—Helicopters have come to the aid of the ground-grubbing surveyor.

The surveyors with Canada's topographical service have to lay down fixed points, by old-fashioned ground methods, before the modern air photo surveys can be of any use.

This year, as an experiment they tried to modernize success in the Uganda-Labrador area and around Fort Nelson, B.C.

The surveyors found the helicopters, equipped with low-pressure pontoons, were able to operate successfully from both land and water bases and helped to make this year's topo-survey program the largest ever completed. More than 110,000 square miles of important mining, forestry, agricultural and other territory were surveyed.

Importance of the expanded work is indicated from the resources department's figures which say that less than 15 per cent of Canada's territory has been "satisfactorily mapped at the four-mile scale."

As a result of this year's field work, more than 80,000 square miles of territory will be mapped at this scale. This summer's work also will make possible the mapping at one-mile-to-the-inch of the widely-separated mining areas of Quebec-Labrador, the Yellowknife district of North-West Territories, the Kimberley area of British Columbia, important areas in the prairies and in the industrial areas of the Eastern Townships of Quebec, the Maritimes and Newfoundland.

Parliament At A Glance

By The Canadian Press

Justice Minister Garson tabled F. A. McGregor's letter of resignation as combines commissioner.

In the leter Mr. McGregor said price-fixing has been developing "to an alarming degree."

Trade Minister Howe said he could see nothing alarming in a report that a fully integrated steel plant is to be constructed in New England.

Opposition members suggested Canada's two large railways do more to develop small railway lines.

The commons approved 81 Quebec divorce bills after protests by members.

MONDAY

The commons will discuss government business. The senate will not sit.

King Broadcasts Christmas Day

LONDON, Nov. 5.—(Reuters)—The King will make his annual Christmas Day broadcast to the Commonwealth at 3 p.m. GMT (8 a.m. Edmonton time), Dec. 25, it was announced last night. His speech, expected to be broadcast from the royal country residence at Sandringham, Norfolk, will follow a round-the-commonwealth program.

GBS Sees Danger Of 'Blundering' Into War

LONDON, Nov. 5.—(Reuters)—George Bernard Shaw, who at 93 is still writing plays and having them produced on the London stage, says in the first exclusive article he has written for more than a year that Britain is in grave danger of blundering into another war.

We should now be at war with Russia, he says in an analysis of [illegible] foreign policy, were it not for the ability of Prime Minister Stalin, and the death of Stalin would be the worst calamity to be feared just now.

Shaw suggests that opposition leader Winston Churchill — "the first to recognize the eminence of Lenin"—should [illegible] form politicians [illegible] of Stalin unless they insult him that he is not a "bloodthirsty guttersnipe" but "the mainstay of peace in Europe."

Shaw says all political parties are agreed that Britain will starve unless she produces more by harder work, that there is too much budgeting for leisure by the workers, and that if the Labor party is defeated at the next general election it will be because of its failure to carry out its promises to lower domestic prices by nationalization.

Of British voters who are "uneducated politically," Shaw says they should know that civilization is impossible without a broad basis of communism, and that "communism cannot develop without a top dressing of private enterprise."

Santa Claus Knows Who Is Bad, Good

LONDON, Ont., Nov. 5—(CP)—A silvery-haired Santa Claus will make the rounds of London township Christmas Eve in a half-ton truck.

This Santa is no stranger to residents of the township. For 364 days of the year Police Chief Harry (Nick) Carter packs a gun to maintain law and order, but on Christmas Eve he packs bundles of food and clothing for needy families.

It is an unusual job for a policeman, but Chief Carter reasons that, due to his job, he is suited to the task.

"Through my work I get to know the needy cases and those that are worthy."

This will be the fifth year the 41-year-old policeman has played Santa Claus. He started it back in 1943.

Albania Purge By Soviets On

BELGRADE, Yougoslavia, Nov. 5—(UP)—Non-Communist refugees from Albania claimed today that hundreds of army and secret police officers have been arrested there recently in a purge to stamp out acute anti-Russian dissatisfaction.

These sources said there have been recent anti-Soviet demonstrations in several areas of the country, including Tirana, the capital. The Russians are disliked because Soviet trading agents are exporting food and essential goods while the population is near stravation, the sources said.

Fire Destroys Fishing Boat

NANAIMO, B.C., Nov 5—(BUP)—The skipper and crew of the fishing boat Carlysle were reported safe today after their vessel caught fire and sank off Nanaimo last night.

Provincial police said the Gillnetter, owned by Canadian Fishing Co., of Vancouver, B.C., was destroyed while operating near Newcastle Inlet, within sight of the main land.

They said Captain J. Johnson and his men were able to clamber into a small dory that was rowed to the scene after a Departure Bay storekeeper reported seeing the Carlysle ablaze. None of the crew was injured.

HUMANS OUTDO WOLF PREYING ON CATTLE

CALGARY, Nov. 5.—(CP)—Livestock rustlers have been responsible for more stock loss over a five year period than all the animal predators roaming the hills and prairies throughout Alberta, according to information received by the Western Stockgrowers' Association from more than 85 of its members.

On Sept. 15, the association distributed livestock loss questionnaires to 1,350 members and by Oct. 15, a total of 85 replies had been received and analyzed.

The reporting members, over a five year period, lost 364 head of cattle valued at $41,645, in addition to 166 sheep valued at $1,730, 32 horses valued at $1,350, and 39 poultry valued at $110 for a total of 601 units valued at $44,835.

Total losses from both human and animal predators over the five year period, so far as the 85 ranchers and farmers were concerned, amounted to 4,803 units valued at $73,891.

Noon Peace Prayers Spreads as U.S. Ritual

By George Kitchen

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—(CP)—A "daily prayer for peace" movement, started by a state department official whose parents came from Canada's Quebec province, is spreading across the United States.

It began less than a year ago when a group of war veterans at Manchester, N.H., resolved to stop whatever they were doing for one minute at noon each day to pray silently for divine help in securing "an equitable and binding peace."

Since then, more than 600 other organizations have embraced the movement and adopted similar resolutions. It has won support from a number of members of Congress and inquiries have begun to come in from interested organizations in Canada.

The movement originated with kindly, chubby-cheeked Herve J. L'Heureux, 50, veteran United States foreign service officer and now chief of the State Department's visa division here.

PARENTS FROM QUEBEC

He is a native of New Hampshire, but has a close kinship with Canada. His father was born at St Romuald, Que.; his mother at St Tite de Bagot. A sister is a nun in the convent of the Presentation of Mary at St. Hyacinthe, Que.

A wounded veteran of the first world war and one of the founders of the American Legion, L'Heureux is no pacifist. Like many Americans, he believes the United States must be prepared to fight if necessary to preserve liberty. But, he says, he hates war and believes prayer will help to establish a just peace.

NON-SECTARIAN

Though L'Heureux himself is a devout Roman Catholic, his movement is non-sectarian. Those who have endorsed it include Protestants, Jewish and Catholic Church leaders and laymen.

L'Heureux has spent most of his spare time sending information about the plan to groups and business firms. But this is not, he says, "something you can ram down the throats of people."

"All I am trying to do is to get the idea before as many people as possible. To be effective, it must be adopted spontaneously."

The movement is spreading beyond the boundaries of the United States. Sixteen foreign countries, Canada among them are represented in the more than 6,000 letters he has received asking information about it.

BLUE LAWS DEFENDED BY CHURCH OFFICIAL

VANCOUVER, Nov. 5.—(CP)—Rev. C. L. Cowan of Hamilton yesterday levelled a blistering attack on cocktail bars and stoutly defended Sunday "blue laws."

The moderator of the Presbyterian church in Canada said in an interview that convictions for drunkenness in his home province have not lessened since cocktail lounges appeared.

"The same sordid situations exist as a result of liquor consumption as prevailed before the opening of the bars," he said.

"Vancouver is lucky to have so few drinking clubs."

He said, too, that the term "blue laws" is a misnomer. "The name 'blue' should not be applied to restrictions in force to guarantee maintenance of the health of the nation."

A man cannot attend church in the morning, a football game in the afternoon and a movie at night," he said, "and maintain his full vigor and capabilities."

OLD ENGLISH, SCOTCH NEVER WOULD MIX

LONDON, Nov. 5—(CP)—Apparently you can't sell "olde Englishe" interior decorating in England—at least, not on British railways.

"Tavern cars," decorated in mock-Tudor furnishings, were introduced last May but have been ridiculed and criticized so much that they now are going out of service.

They will be redecorated and emerge as modern "bar cars."

Atom Secrets Are Said Few

OTTAWA, Nov. 5—(CP)—Only a small fraction of Canada's atomic effort is in a secret category, Dr. C. J. Mackenzie told the Commons' first atomic committee yesterday. He is chairman of the Atomic Energy Control Board.

At its first meeting, the committee:

1. Named George McIlraith, parliamentary assistant to Trade Minister Howe, as chairman.
2. Agreed to meet twice next week and then spend two days at the Chalk River atomic project 125 miles west of Ottawa the week after.
3. Heard Dr. Mackenzie promise to tell them everything, with secret information strictly off the record and earmarked to go no further.

Floods Kill 50 In Venezuela

CARACAS, Venezuela, Nov. 5—(UP)—Authorities reported today that a flash flood in the Petare region, 20 miles southwest of Caracas, killed 50 persons and left 15,000 homeless.

The flood wiped out bridges, cut rail lines and inundated homes when the Guaira River, swollen by recent heavy rains, suddenly overflowed its banks.

Damage was estimated at $2,000,000. The national racetrack was reported under water and at least 10 valuable racehorses were drowned.

More than 1,000 police and firemen, aided by troops and national guardsmen, were rushed to the stricken area to aid in rescue work.

Chinese Have Atomic Bomb, Endicott Says

CALGARY, Nov. 5—(CP)—Dr. James G. Endicott of Toronto, national chairman of the Canadian Peace Congress, said that China "has the atomic bomb."

"The Chinese know how to make the bomb. Four of the top atomic scientists in the world are Chinese-Joliot-Curie trained," he said. "They have plenty of raw materials. There are rich uranium deposits in northwest China."

Dr. Endicott also said that Russia now is turning out atomic energy for domestic use and is using thorium and barium, materials not considered suitable for turning out the bomb.

A very fine "rope" of water hanging down one and four-tenths miles would support its own weight and not break.

By BILLY ROSE

Mrs. Billy Rose And The Two Ton Glare

On November 14, Eleanor and I will have been married ten years, and so, in the tradition of column-writing husbands, here's the inevitable piece on the care, feeding and all-round domestication of the male animal. . . .

During the [illegible] when my missus was displeased with something I did, she used to tell me so in so many words.

But for a long time now Eleanor has been using a much more effective technique — the Withering Heights look — the lingo of the [illegible].

ONE WAY LANGUAGE

This method of communication, as all husbands know, is strictly a one-way language, more economical than French and more compressed than Chinese, and it bears a striking similarity to the idiom used by humans in speaking to canines, as in "Down, Rover," and "Jump, Fritz."

It is Sunday morning and our week-end guests are already at breakfast. I come downstairs wearing a floppy bathrobe and a night's growth of five-o'clock shadow.

Eleanor gives me the look. Translated, it means, "Once a Bowery bum, always a Bowery bum. What are we running here, a flophouse with a fringe on top?"

I say nothing, but the next Sunday morning I'm wearing a sport coat, and my fingers are manicured down to the second joint.

Or, I tag along with Mrs. R. to a ladies' dress shop where a salesman trots out an evening gown with a Paris label and a Paris price. I flap my lips experimentally. Eleanor turns on the eye-fire.

EYE FIRE TALKS

Translation: "Hold your tongue and horses, Junior. It's my allowance [illegible] what do you know about women's clothes anyhow?

"I've seen the way you dress girls in your shows and anything beyond a G-string is bound to strike you as sheer extravagance. Smile pretty at the salesman."

And so, being the captain of my soul, I smile pretty.

Or, we get out of a cab in front of a restaurant and I start for the door. Suddenly I feel Eleanor's eyes in the nape of my neck.

"Easy does it, Buster," they say. "I'm going through that door first if I have to drag you behind me on a leash. Come back and offer your arm before I twist it off."

I casually saunter in after my wife, wondering if the leash is showing.

FOOD! STAND BACK

Last week we had several people to dinner, including the Deems Taylors. In came the vichysoisse and into the vichysoisse I went. Eleanor's glare hit me right where I choke.

"Where are your manners?" it said. "Don't you know it's dangerous to approach a body of liquid like that without a diving helmet? Besides, where do you get the nerve to make such noises with an eminent music critic like Deems Taylor at the table?"

My decade with Baby has taught me one thing:

If you can grow a back like a turtle, two can live as chipper as one; in other words, providing your house-and spirit-broken, bliss is a streetcar named connubial.

Am I putting the whammy on wedlock? Heck, no.

If my favorite looker stopped giving me those looks, I'd be as jittery as a canary which escapes from its cage and then wonders how it can get back in again.

LOVER OF SEA, SAILOR DIES IN HIS TUB

SUNDERLAND, England, Nov. 5—(AP)—Sixty-year-old Frederick Ramsay loved the sea.

He had sailed all over the world. He spent most of the first world war on ships and had a number of lucky escapes.

Retiring from seafaring, he took a job as a dock gate foreman just to be near the water. He trained himself to be a powerful swimmer and rescued two men from the river Tyne.

Yesterday Ramsay collapsed in his bath tub and was drowned in a few inches of water.

Security Prices Continue Advance

AP List Gains .8 In Week; Metals Index Up 8 Points

TORONTO, Nov. 5.—(CP)—Steadily increasing interest was apparent this week on markets as security prices continued their current advance that started in mid-June.

Activity was brisk and brokers reported wider public participation. Settlement of part of the steel strike in the United States and little apparent effect on markets but there was some professional selling.

The four month advance slowly pushed its way into new high ground. Business decreased when prices showed signs of slipping and increased on the upturn.

Year-end dividend increases and extras helped the advance but some observers predicted a slight year-end drop in the market caused by tax-selling. Others say that many common stocks being bought are going into safety deposit boxes.

A slight tapering off in prices was evident after the mid-week upsurge as many traders realized profits.

New York was unexcited by the Bethlehem Steel strike agreement Tuesday but Wednesday saw the average price level climb to a 12 month peak in one of the busiest [illegible]

Profit taking clamped down Thursday and yesterday. The Associated Press 60-stock average dipped .1 yesterday to close the five days at 68.6, a gain of .8 from the previous Friday.

Base metal stocks featured rising Canadian markets. Buying was heavy in leading issues. [illegible] per spurred the Toronto base metal index to the highest point [illegible]

In two weeks, the base metal index has added more than eight points.

Considerable attention was focused on Imperial Oil yesterday following news of a possible new oil pool found by an Imperial well [illegible]

Leyland Distributors Open Here

Transport Equipment (Alberta) Ltd., distributors for Leyland Diesel trucks and industrial units, has established headquarters in Edmonton.

Aim of the firm is to cut the cost of operating trucks and industrial units by combining a top quality product with many years of experience in problems confronting truck and bus operators and owners.

Leyland is not a new name to the trucking and bus business. Prior to World War II, many of these units found their way to all parts of the world, including Canada. Many of these models still operate after more than 20 years continued hard usage.

Rugged construction and economy of operation are claimed for Leyland Diesel units. Regardless of roads, loads, weather, Leyland has proven itself in all types of hauling.

Leyland is an all-British product, now being built in Malton, Ont., and Montreal, especially for Canadian trade and Canadian roads.

F. J. Leoppky, recently of Alberta Wheel Distributors Ltd., Edmonton, has been appointed manager [illegible] trucking industry. Mr. Loeppky served in last war with Mechanical section (transport) RCASC. Prior to enlisting, he was engaged in the automobile business in Saskatchewan.

Oils and Metals Edge Forward

TORONTO, Nov. 5—(CP)—Western oils and base metals moved into slightly higher ground in today's short session on the Toronto Stock Exchange. Industrials also moved upwards for a small gain to a new high while golds were fractionally easier in dull trading.

Volume for the three hours was about 500,000 shares.

Western oils were generally higher and the list was spotted with few losses. Today's advance was a continuation of yesterday's firmness.

Senior issues were quiet in the gold list while the junior group was spotted liberally with losses, mostly penny declines.

Grain Rate Battle Seen at Hearing

CPR, Alberta Skirmish Over Crow's Nest Rules

OTTAWA, Nov. 5.—(CP)—Preliminary skirmishing in an expected major battle over western grain freight rates has developed before the Royal Commission on Transportation.

Foreshadowing of a full-dress scrap over the controversial rates came before the commission yesterday as counsel for the Canadian Pacific Railway and Alberta—one of the grain-growing provinces—clashed warmly over the issue.

OLD AGREEMENT

The CPR wants to eliminate the special low rates on some grain movements in the west, which were negotiated in the "Crow's Nest Pass" agreement of 1896 and then solidified by federal statute in 1922.

Alberta Counsel J. J. Frawley sprang to the defence of the "Crow's Nest" rates when CPR lawyer Ian Sinclair sought to draw out an opinion from a witness as to whether the half-century-old rates accurately reflected conditions entering into modern rate-making.

The witness—Rand H. Matheson, manager of the Maritime Transportation Commission — eventually came out in favor of retention of the special rates.

However, he said the railways should be compensated by subsidy or some similar arrangement for any losses in hauling the grain.

NON-COMPENSATORY

The CPR contends the rates are "non-compensatory" by between $13,000,000 and $16,000,000 a year. A brief of Mr. Matheson's commission, submitted earlier, suggests the total railway deficiency on the grain rates is $33,000,000 a year.

Mr. Frawley objected strongly today to the CPR bringing up the grain-rate issue at this stage of the hearing, accusing Mr. Sinclair of trying to use Mr. Matheson for a "sidewind" attack on the western tolls.

The railway lawyer said he thought Mr. Frawley was "unduly sensitive" about the western rates. After a wrangle over whether he should be allowed to ask Mr. Matheson about them, he was allowed to proceed.

Mr. Frawley again protested the CPR questioning when, after Mr. Matheson had come out in favor of the Crow's Nest rates, the railway lawyer asked if he would stick by his stand "even though other shippers are called on to pay an additional $33,000,000 a year which they would not have to if the grain rates were fair."

RAILWAY USES PICTURE SHOW AS EVIDENCE

OTTAWA, Nov 5.—(CP)—The Board of Transport Commissioners went to the movies yesterday and it was all part of a day's work.

The movie was a Canadian Pacific Railway instructional film showing the proper technique in removing hand and motor cars from the rails.

The film was shown as the CPR continued to present evidence opposing an application to the board that would force the railways to hire more men for maintenance gangs.

Commission Concludes West Hearings on Art

REGINA, Nov. 5.—(CP)—Members of the Royal Commission on Arts, Letters and Sciences today were on their way to Toronto after concluding a western tour with a two-day sitting in Regina.

The commission will later tour the Maritime provinces for about one month, then will submit its final report sometime next fall.

While in Regina, Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, chairman of the commission, decided that it was up to Ottawa to decide whether most of a brief prepared by the Saskatchewan Department of Education could be accepted by the commission.

He said it was his opinion the provincial government's request to have the federal government assume responsibility for education was outside the commission's territory.

W. S. Lloyd, Saskatchewan education minister who presented the brief, said the basis for his request was the desirability of more equal educational opportunities for Canadian children.

The submission recommended that federal grants for general elementary education in the provinces could be made without infringement on the provinces' rights.

The brief said the federal government, which is empowered to protect the country's welfare in wartime, should also assume the responsibility in peacetime.

Police said that when Felpe was arrested he had in his possession some $1,800 in bogus $10 bills.

ALBERTA'S RESOURCES MAIN

Food production is man's most important occupation. Agriculture is outstandingly the backbone of Alberta's economy. The annual production of new wealth from the farm lands of this province enters into every channel of business life. When the farmer is prosperous, the province is prosperous.

For over a quarter of a century, the Alberta Wheat Pool has sought to impress the importance of agriculture on the people of Alberta. The Wheat Pool is a farmer-owned co-operative entrprise. The co-operative movement is a natural development of democracy. It is the only means available to protect the mass of the people from monopolistic practices. It is a vigorous growth which can flourish only under democratic government.

The people of Alberta should understand that co-operatives are neccessary to healthful economic development. They should appreciate what has been accomplished by such organizations as the Alberta Wheat Pool.

Alberta farmers are for the most part enterprising and aggressive. Their production under the circumstances and conditions available to them is equal to that of any farmers in the entire world. The high quality of their products is proven by their winnings at the great fairs and shows held all over the continent.

The Alberta Wheat Pool congratulates the men who have been declared Master Farmers in the competition established by the government of Alberta. These men are a credit to th agricultural industry.

POP, I HOPE TO MAKE ENOUGH MONEY SOON TO PAY RENT FOR OUR ROOM.
PAY RENT? I REALLY HADN'T CONSIDERED THAT.
I'D FEEL BETTER ABOUT IT.
AS I UNDERSTAND IT, SON, THAT WOULD NEVER DO. YOU AND HOPE WOULD BE TENANTS AND I'D BE LANDLORD.
IT WOULD BE THE SAME EXCEPT I'D PAY RENT.
NOT AT ALL, CORKY. I'D HAVE TO GO BEFORE THE RENT CONTROL BOARD TO SHOW THAT THE RENT ASKED IS JUST AND EQUITABLE.
IF THE FIRE IN THE FURNACE WENT DOWN, I COULD BE SUED FOR JEOPARDIZING THE HEALTH OF MY TENANTS.
THE ROOM WOULD BE YOUR LEGAL HOME. IF I WENT TO YOUR CLOSET TO GET MY GOLF CLUBS, YOU COULD HAVE ME ARRESTED FOR BREAKING AND ENTERING.
IF YOU HAD NOISY PARTIES, I WOULD HAVE NO REDRESS EXCEPT REPORTING DISTURBANCES OF THE PEACE.
BUT—
I COULDN'T RAISE YOUR RENT WITHOUT MAKING SUBSTANTIAL IMPROVEMENTS—AND APPROVAL BY THE RENTAL AUTHORITIES.
BUT—
IF I GOT TOUGH AND EVICTED YOU, I'D BE SUBJECT TO FINE AND DAMAGES, PERHAPS JAIL. WHO KNOWS?
BUT—
IF I SHOULD WANT TO GET RID OF YOU, I'D HAVE TO SELL THE HOUSE AND MOVE OUT.
BUT—
BUT I COULD PAY BOARD.
I WAS HOPING YOU'D BRING THAT UP
